BRITISH AND FRENCH TROOPS SURPRISE ENEMY

ALLIES ADVANCE IN TWO SECTORS ON WEST FRONT

British Troops Send Their Line Forward Nearly One Mile on Front of Three and a Half Miles, East of Nieppe Forest, Taking Prisoners and Machine Guns.

GROUND CAPTURED IS OF IMPORTANCE

French Make Similar Gain in Region Southwest of Soissons, Gathering in Over 1,000 Prisoners —Local Operations Near Montdidier and Dammard Also Successful.

LONDON, June 28.—British troops in attacks against the Germans have advanced their line over a front of nearly three and a half miles to an average depth of nearly a mile, east of the Nieppe forest, which lies between Bailleul and Bethune, according to the British official communication issued this evening. West of Merris, Australian troops also captured enemy positions. On both sectors prisoners and machine guns were taken.

The text of the communication follows:

"This morning English troops carried out a successful operation on a front of about three and a half miles east of the Nieppe forest. Our line on this front has been advanced to an average depth of nearly a mile, and more than 300 prisoners and 22 machine guns have been captured.

All Objectives Gained

"All our objectives were gained, including the hamlets of L'Epinette, La Verte Rue and La Becque.

"The enemy was taken by surprise and our casualties are light.

"At the same hour Australians attacked and captured certain posts west of Merris, together with forty-three prisoners and six machine guns.

"On the remainder of the British front the situation is unchanged."

The text of the early statement follows:

"A raid attempted by enemy troops Wednesday night against one of our posts in the neighborhood of Merinneville, south of Arras, was repulsed with loss.

"A part of our troops carried out a successful daylight raid yesterday near Mericourt, capturing a few prisoners without suffering casualties.

"During the night our own and the enemy's artillery was active in the neighborhood of Rossignol Wood, southeast of Gommecourt. Casualties were inflicted upon the enemy in this neighborhood by our patrols."

French Also Advance

PARIS, June 28.—Southwest of Soissons French troops in an attack over a front of four and a half miles, from the south of Amblemy to the east of Montgober today captured German positions and at some points advanced their line to a depth of a mile and a quarter says the French official communication this evening. Prisoners to the number of 1,000 thus far have been counted. The communication follows:

"South of the Aisne we attacked this morning, from the south of Amblemy to the east of Montgobert in order to acquire armed places on a seven kilometre front. We entered German works, took the fosses above Laversine and the heights northwest of Cutry and advanced our lines near the west of St. Pierre Aigle and also on the hill south of the village.

"Our advance reached at some points a depth of two kilometres. We have taken until now 1,000 prisoners."

The text of the day statement follows:

"Northwest of Montdidier French troops advanced their line in Senecat Wood and captured 100 prisoners.

"Between the Marne and the Ourcq a local operation was carried out south of Dammard, our troops taking twenty-two prisoners.

"The night was calm on the rest of the front."

Important Ground

LONDON, June 28.—A successful advance of nearly a mile was made today by the British troops between Bailleul and Bethune, according to Reuter's headquarters correspondent. The correspondent says the captured ground lies at the most debatable point on the British front, just east of the Bois d'Aval, which forms the foremost east angle of the Nieppe Forest.

"The offensive was at a point where the enemy thrust was hardest in the Flanders battle in an effort to capture the forest, which would have opened his way to Hazebrouck, the capture of which would have entailed our retirement from Ypres," says the report.

"The attack was launched at 6 o'clock this morning on a front of 6,000 yards from Vieux Berquin to Pont Tournai, its objective being the line of the small stream called the Plate Becque, 1,500 yards away. The objectives were completely attained and gave us substantial ground for future attacks."

BERLIN, June 28.—The official statement today follows:

"There has been lively activity on the part of the British and the French on both sides of the Somme. On other sectors, also between the Yser and the Marne the artillery fire increased to great intensity on both sides of the Lys between Bailleul and Bethune and south of the Aisne. Our artillery replied vigorously. Infantry engagements also developed on isolated sectors.

The communication follows:

"North of the Lys and south of the Aisne we are fighting to repulse vigorous enemy partial attacks."

German Pressure in Roumania

AMSTERDAM, June 28.—A royal decree has been issued at Bucharest, says the Koelnische Volks Zeitung, pardoning all German staff officers in Roumania who are being prosecuted or have already been convicted for offences committed with the intention of helping their fatherland or infringing special laws against enemy subjects.

ARTILLERY IS ACTIVE ON BALKAN FRONT

PARIS, June 28.—The War Office reports:

"Army of the East: There has been continuous reciprocal artillery activity in the region of Doiran and west of the Vardar. The artillery has been normal in the region of Monastir. An enemy detachment which attempted to approach our line near Kravista was repulsed. Italian troops have carried out with success a surprise attack on an enemy position on Hill 1050.

"There has been a bombardment by Allied aviators of enemy bivouacs northwest of Gievgeli and on the depots at Cerniste."

ENEMY IS DRIVEN FROM POSITIONS

French Deprive Him of Territory Which Would Have Made Good Starting Point for New Offensive.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, June 28.—The first notable activity for some time on this front occurred early this morning when the French executed a local operation to the southwest of Soissons and on the borders of the forest of Villers Cotterets, where we captured several positions whose continual possession would have permitted the enemy to prepare a future offensive. The French attack occurred at dawn along a front of 6,000 yards, and the fighting proceeded throughout the day.

By late afternoon, when this dispatch was filed, the French had advanced considerably, taking a number of prisoners, and more were coming in. The Allied troops had reached the outskirts of the Fosse-Bas Cutry and St. Pierre Aigle, where a most determined struggle was progressing. The Germans had been ejected from a portion of the forest of Villers Cotterets southward to St. Pierre Aigle. The French artillery completely dominated the enemy guns.

BRITISH SUCCEED IN SUDDEN ATTACK

Dash Into German Trenches Before Foe Is Aware of Approach—Saxon and Prussian Defenders Are Hurled Back—Section of Ground Seized Gives Allies Advantage.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, June 28.—(By the A. P.)—Field Marshal von Hindenburg's troops east of the forest of Nieppe got a nasty and unexpected knock today when the British suddenly drove forward in a surprise attack along a front of more than three miles and hurled the startled grey-coated soldiers back to an average depth of 1,500 yards.

The operation was an unqualified success from its inception, and the attacking infantry reached all their objectives in a remarkably short time. By this thust the British not only have greatly improved their position in this important and much-contested sector, which lies just north of Merville, but they inflicted heavy punishment on two hostile divisions that were holding the line here —the thirty-second division of Saxons and the 44th reserve division of Prussians.

Large numbers of the enemy were killed in the hurricane onslaught, and 250 of the more fortunate had been collected in the prison cages before noon.

The front of attack was 6,000 yards in length, and lay approximately between Vieux- Berquin on the north and Pont Tournai, which is 3,000 yards northwest of Merville, on the south.

West of Merville, the British and German lines here had been jammed up almost against the edge of the Nieppe forest in places, with the result that the British felt a lack of elbow room for operations. It was in order to acquire more leeway that today's assault was projected. The objectives settled upon lay along the winding little stream known as the Plate Becque, which bowed out toward the east in a semi-circle back of the German lines. Prussians and Saxons were holding this zone with a series of strong machine gun posts linked up with barbed wire.

The first stages of the drive were comparatively easy. In fact, all the objectives were reached without much difficulty.

At two strongly fortified farms near the centre of the line, the enemy fought stubbornly, but was unable to stand out long against the furious onslaught of the British, who attacked them from all directions.

The losses among the storming infantry for the entire engagement were light, due largely to the fact that the show was over before the enemy were able to organize.

As a special feature of the programme, Australian troops on the left carried out an attack of their own, adding nearly half a hundred prisoners to the bag.

The morale of the prisoners was not high. These men and others captured recently expected to get ahead much faster.

These men professed to believe that the United States was not going to be able to render much assistance to the Allies. The helplessness of the United States is being preached assiduously to the troops by the German high command, and this propaganda undoubtedly has had its effect among the men in the trenches.

With the German officers, naturally, it is different, for they have no delusions on the subject.

During the Spring the low-lying ground here has been little better than a morass. The warm weather of recent days dried it out enough to make it feasible for infantry operations.

The British pushed off at six o'clock this morning, after a short, sharp bombardment, just as the white mists were beginning to arise along the numerous streams which thread their tortuous way about this region.

Statements by prisoners show that the enemy had not the slightest expectation of the British taking the initiative at this point. The Germans felt so secure that they were devoting most of their time to a campaign against the epidemic known locally as the Flanders grippe, which has sent many of them to hospitals.

The British were over the top and at the enemy before the latter realized their danger. Machine gun posts were stormed and cleared out with hand grenades and bayonets. Where the Germans were holding a stretch of trench, the attacking troops rushed up with rapid fire and swept the ditches with an intense fire that annihilated the defenders.

NICHOLAS' FATE IS UNCERTAIN

Contradictory Reports Are Still Coming From Russia Regarding Ex-Czar — Berlin Embassy's Statement.

BERLIN BELIEVES DEATH REPORT CORRECT

Maxim Gorky's Paper Declares Former Emperor Was Murdered by Red Guards—His Mother Stays in Crimea.

BASEL, Switzerland, June 28.—(Havas Agency)—According to a local newspaper the Russian Embassy in Berlin is reported to have advised the court at Darmstadt that former Emperor Nicholas is safe.

AMSTERDAM, June 28.—A Berlin dispatch says that according to news received there from Kiev a member of the Soviet Government announced that the reports that former Emperor Nicholas has been brought before a revolutionary tribunal and that he had been assassinated both are incorrect. The official added that Nicholas and his family were in good health.

German papers just received here seem to regard the reports of the death of Nicholas Romanoff as authentic. The Russian newspaper, Novaia Zchizn, edited by Maxim Gorky, is quoted by the Hamburg Fremdenblatt as printing a report that Nicholas, while in a train with Red Guards, complained against being transferred from Ekaterinburg to Moscow, and that he got into a dispute with his escort and was murdered.

The dispatch adds that the daughters of the former Emperor were under guard in another coach, and that the fate of the former Empress and the former Crown Prince is unknown.

COPENHAGEN, June 28.—The National Tidende states that the former Dowager Empress, Maria Feodorovna of Russia, temporarily is in the Crimea, and even with the German military in power there she has not been able to proceed to Denmark. As the Danish nation is anxious for the safety of this former Danish princess, and longing to welcome her to Denmark, the newspaper asked Dr. von Kuehlmann, German Foreign Secretary, whether the German Government had refused to allow the former Emperor's mother to come to Denmark.

Dr. von Kuehlann answered that Germany had not refused this permission, and that she and the other members of the former Emperor's family were remaining in the Crimea on their own volition.

ALLIES' TROOPS BEAT AUSTRIANS

British on Asiago Plateau Penetrate Enemy's Trenches and Inflict Losses—Vienna Reports Repulse of Attacks.

ROME, June 28.—British troops on the Asiago Plateau yesterday penetrated the Austro-Hungarian trenches inflicting losses on their occupants and brought back prisoners, it was announced today by the Italian War Office. On other parts of the front Italian scouting parties engaged in brisk fighting. The text of the statement reads:

"Along the whole front there was moderate artillery activity. The operations of reconnoitering parties gave rise to brisk fighting episodes on Monte Corno and south of Sasso Rosso.

"On the Asiago Plateau, a British force penetrated into the enemy trenches, inditicing losses on him and bringing back a few prisoners.

"Our airmen carried out lively bombardments."

VIENNA, June 28.—The official communication issued by the War Office today says:

"In Guidicaria, in the Argo basin and in the Adige valley the Italians are directing their ineffective destructive fire far behind our lines.

"On the Venetian Alps front, the Col di Rosso, which was heroically held on the 24th, and Monte di Valbella, situated to the west thereof, as well as the region west of Asiago, were subjected to long and continuous artillery fire and mine fires.

"On the Piave front a new attempt made by the Italians to cross the river near Fossalto was frustrated. The waters of the Piave continue to run high."

CAMP BORDEN, June 28.—Cadet John Arthur Byrnes of the Royal Air Force, was killed here as the result of an aeroplane accident at 8:30 o'clock this evening, while doing a solo flight.

BLOCKS RELEASE OF PRISONERS

Czecho-Slovak Control of Railway Spoils Teutonic Plans for Repatriation—Counter-Revolutionary Operations.

MOSCOW, June 28.—Owing to the Czecho-Slovak outbreak, with the complete stoppage it has brought about of traffic on the trans-Siberian Railway and on a goodly portion of the Eastern Railway, the German plans to rush war prisoners homeward are failing of realization.

In the area affected by the Czecho-Slovak military operations, extending from Samara, on the Volga, to Novo Nikolaievsk, beyond Omsk, there are about 300,000 German and Austrian able-bodied prisoners — 200,000 in Siberia, 45,000 in Turkestan and the remainder in the Provinces of Perm and Orenburg. Of that number there are about 17,000 officers, whom the Austrians are particularly eager to repatriate. More than half the number of prisoners are employed in the mines, in factories or in the fields. Several hundred thousand were similarly engaged in the Ukraine and in the Don region, when the German advance set them free.

AMSTERDAM, June 28.—Professor Paul Miliukoff, leader of the Russian Constitutional Democrats, and Alexander J. Guchkoff, Octobrist leader, have arrived at Harbin, Manchuria, and placed themselves at the head of a counter-revolutionary movement, according to The Vossische Zeitung, which is quoted in a telegram from Berlin to the Dutch press.

Visits Italian Troops

PARIS, June 28.—(Havas Agency.)—Premier Clemenceau yesterday visited the Italian troops in the region of Rheims. The Premier congratulated them on their fine morale and the brilliant success they have achieved on the French front.

SPEECH IS MEANT FOR PACIFISTS

Lord Robert Cecil Gives View of British Government in Regard to Von Kuehlmann's Utterances—Is Hypocritical.

LONDON, June 28.—Lord Robert Cecil, British Minister of Blockade, in a statement today, characterized the recent speech of Dr. von Kuehlmann, German Foreign Secretary, as vague in phraseology and intended to appeal to the pacifist element in the countries at war with Germany.

Lord Robert intimated that his analysis of Dr. von Kuehlmann's remarks was that of the British Government. He had recognised the speech as being "directed largely in all countries, especially England, to encourage those who may be inclined to be war-weary to believe that tolerable terms might be secured, and that, if these terms were not accepted, the war would go on indefinitely."

Lord Robert pointed out that Dr. von Kuehlmann, understanding somewhat the British mind, has been careful not to threaten, but had mentioned the German gains in the East.

Lord Robert indicated that he regarded the Foreign Secretary's attitude as merely another chapter in German hypocrisy, and that his reference to the freedom of the seas and to colonial possessions, and other terms named, were too vague and indefinable to discuss.

Total ballots cast, 6,106.

By a majority which, besides placing him at the head of the poll by a very substantial margin, spelt not only decisive defeat but also loss of their deposits for his three competitors, ex-Private Francis W. H. Giolma, candidate of the service organisations of the riding, was elected at yesterday's by-election contest to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Premier Brewster.

It was an emphatic victory, in which the party candidates were left far behind. The vote was less than one-third of the possible vote, but at that the victor's majority was a sweeping one, his total of 3,264 being 2,265 in excess of his nearest competitor, Major Langley, Liberal candidate, and 2,623 over that of Mr. R. W. Perry, the Conservative standard-bearer. Indeed, Mr. Giolma secured 1,192 more votes than the other three candidates in the field combined.

The result of the contest was welcomed with iglee by the returned men and their friends, and as the results from the respective polls were posted at The Colonist, showing that in every ward their candidate was a winner by a very wide margin, the crowd showed its appreciation by outbursts of cheers. Shortly after the finals were bulletined an impromptu meeting was held on Broad Street, at which the victorious candidate, who wore his new honors blushingly, was given a rousing greeting, and as his two opponents, Major Langley and Mr. Perry, appeared on the scene and extended their congratulations to the member-elect, the gathering cheered them to the echo.

There was little left, after the count was known, that brought comfort to the party candidates, but they accepted their defeat with good grace. Major Langley, as the candidate of a government strongly entrenched, appeared to have the best strategic position in that the opposition forces were behind two candidates who might be supposed to work against one another's interests. But undoubtedly it was the women's votes which carried the day, though Mr. Giolma's support included a large section of members of both political parties, who felt the contest offered an excellent opportunity to voice their sympathy for and admiration of the cause of the returned man.

The election was a remarkably quiet one, and the vote registered was smaller than looked for in view of the fact that the women were expected to take advantage of their new franchise and turn out in to the number. Up to noon hardly 600 votes had been polled at any one of the five ward polling places, but during the afternoon the woman vote became more prominent. It was early recognized that Mr. Giolma was going to head the poll, for everywhere his support was in evidence. By 2 o'clock it was apparent that the only question was the size of his majority. But it is doubtful if even his most ardent supporters expected the handsome majority he actually secured, however much they may have hoped for it.

There was not an untoward incident during the day's voting. Returning Officer Courtney had all arrangements made for the polling, which was carried on without a hitch. He had some difficulty in securing a full list of poll clerks and other needed assistance, but by recourse to the staff of a local business school he secured a full complement of workers.

With the Victoria contest decided, there will be a cessation in political activity for some time, the vacancy to be filled here being the only one remaining to complete the full representation in the Legislature.

"The electors of Victoria have considered it advisable to put in a returned soldier, and that, I suppose, is all there is to it," said Premier Oliver last night. "We shall go on with our policies regarding the returned soldiers and do what we can to carry them into effect in the interests of the men who return from overseas."

Hon. John Hart said: "It appears

HABEAS CORPUS WRITS TO ISSUE

Courts at Calgary and Montreal Agree With Contentions of Petitioners Who Fight Order-in-Council.

CALGARY, June 28.—An order was granted today, issued by the appellate division of the Supreme Court of Alberta, granting habeas corpus to Lewis, in the recent appeal brought by R. B. Bennett. The order was stayed for two weeks pending a possible appeal. Chief Justice Harvie dissented from Justices Simmons, Stuart, Hyndman and Beck, who were in favor.

MONTREAL, June 28. — Justice Bruneau announced today that he would issue writs of habeas corpus on the petitions presented by counsel on behalf of some half-dozen men —not British subjects—who complain that they are illegally detained in military barracks. There was no doubt in the court's mind that the right of habeas corpus existed, that the order-in-council attacked by the pleas of the counsel did not suspend the right, and the objections now raised on the constitutionality or otherwise of the order properly belonged to the period when the writs were returned for judgment on their merits.

Acting for the Minister of Justice in the case, P. B. Mignault, K.C., this morning opened his speech against the contention made by a number of soldiers held in barracks, before Mr. Justice Bruneau.

Mr. Mignault contended that the order-in-council does not apply to persons not being British subjects, and that the government never contemplated forcing the foreigners to serve in the Canadian army. Mr. Mignault stated that against what had been asserted by the attorneys for the petitioners, the order passed under the War Measures Act was not the act of the executive, but that of Parliament itself, which had transferred its powers to the Governor-General-in-Council in adopting the said War Measures Act. Counsel contended that article 91 of the Act of British North America would bear out his assertion on this subject.

Those who fail to live up to the measures must take the consequences, argued Mr. Mignault, and according to the contention of the Department of Justice, the Superior Court, in the present instance, should declare that the petitioners' detention and arrest were legal and should be maintained until such time as the Minister of Militia can take cognizance and adjudge upon their status.

SHOW TREACHERY TOWARDS POLAND

Bolsheviki Consent to Germany and Austria Completing Hold on Unfortunate Country—Pact Is Scandalous.

LONDON, June 28.—Germany and the Russian Bolsheviki government in a secret convention regarding the future of Poland have virtually agreed to co-operate in crushing Polish nationalist aspirations. Details of the treaty have been printed in the newspaper, The Nation's Voice, of Cracow, according to a dispatch to The Times from Milan.

The Bolsheviki government pledges itself to recognise Austro-German hegemony in Poland and to aid in defending it against the former allies of Russia.

The Cracow newspaper describes the treaty as a "scandalous document, showing the treachery of the Bolsheviki and the baseness of the Germans."

It gives the substance of the eight articles of the agreement as follows:

"First, the Polish policy shall be conducted by Germany.

Second, the Russian government pledges itself not to interfere with the organization of Poland.

"Third, the Russian government may keep in touch with democratic and revolutionary clubs in Poland through agitators known to the German information.

Fourth, the sending of agitators to Germany and Austria shall be suspended by the Russian government.

Fifth, Russia shall exercise strict vigilence over Polish national groups so as to prevent them from enlisting in the Russian territorial army.

"Sixth, Russia shall consider violation of the frontiers of Lithuania and the Ukraine by Polish troops as a declaration of war on Germany and Austria-Hungary, and shall aid in crushing such troops.

"Seventh, Russia shall prevent Russian citizens from investing their own or French, British or American capital in any industrial undertaking in Poland.

"Eighth, Russian pledges itself to recognise the eventual new state of things to be created by Germany and Austria in Poland, and to defend it against Russia's former allies."

There was great political unrest in Poland last February after the Central Powers and the Ukraine had signed their treaties of peace providing for the annexation of the districts of Cholm by the Ukraine, and while the Russo-German peace was being completed.

The Polish ministry at Warsaw resigned as a protest, and there were strike outbreaks throughout Russian Poland and parts of Galicia.

Meanwhile the Polish legion in the Russian army under General Mousnitsky took up arms against the Bolsheviki when the latter attempted to compel the Polish command to submit to their orders. There was bitter fighting for several days between the Poles and the Bolsheviki, but in the latter part of February the Polish legion had been broken up. By that time also the unrest in Poland had died down, but it flamed up again later in a series of strikes in Russian Poland, particularly in the Dombrowa coal fields.

SPIRIT OF REVOLT SPREADS IN HUNGARY

PARIS, June 28.—There have been rebellious outbreaks among the garrisons of the cities of Nagy Gyor and Pecs, Hungary, as a result of which 2,000 of the military involved in the mutiny have been condemned to death, according to reports received by The Matin today.

Both Austria and Hungary are affected by the revolutionary movement, which is said to be in progress on a large scale in Austria, the newspaper advices declare. The spirit of revolt is said to be strongly pervasive to the army.

Violent demonstrations are reported to have taken place in numerous cities.

Pecs is the Hungarian name for the city of Funfkirchen, 105 miles southwest of Budapest. The city has a population of about 45,000.

Nagy Gyor, more commonly known as Raab, is a city of about 28,000 and is 67 miles northwest of Budapest.

COULD EASILY CONTROL SIBERIA

Small Army Sent by Allies Would Be Sufficient to Overthrow Bolsheviki — Latter Using Released Prisoners.

LONDON, June 28.—That the Bolsheviki in Siberia are weak and could be overthrown easily but for the support of armed prisoners released by them is the contention of the Harbin correspondent of The Daily Mail. In a long dispatch dated June 23, he says that of 20,000 prisoners fighting on the side of the Bolsheviki in trans-Baikalia, 4,000 are Magyars, who are the chief source of Bolsheviki strength. Two or three Allied divisions says the correspondent, could put down all opposition in Siberia. He adds:

"The weakness of the Bolsheviki may be imagined from the fact that a few scattered Czecho-Slovak forces are able to hold the Siberian railway for a distance of 1,500 miles and keep in touch with the counter-revolutionary movement in Southeastern Russia led by General Alexieff.

"Bolshevikism is a living corpse. Allied intervention is vital, not only to save the Russians from the Germans, but to save the Russians from themselves."

The correspondent then gives information concerning conditions in leading Siberian towns. He says that there are 40,000 unarmed Austrian prisoners at Omsk, where a German consul has just arrived. The consul has received 250,000 roubles from the local Bolsheviki Government as an indemnity for the liquidation of German business, while representatives of British and American firms are being mulcted heavily under threat of imprisonment.

The American consul of Irkutsk reports that the town is pock-marked with bullet and shell holes, and that the Bolsheviki and Czecho-Slovaks are fighting there. No business is being transacted, and there is no food. Business has also ceased at Krasnoyarsia.

Industries and mines have been nationalised, but the workmen are idle. Eight furnaces of a big steel works in the Ural Mountains solidified while the workmen were discussing whether or not to work.

Order is ensured in Vladivostok, says the correspondent, by the pregence of Allied warships in the harbor and Japanese and British patrols in the streets.

WELCOME RAIN AIDS CROPS IN OKANAGAN

VERNON, B.C., June 28.—Welcome rain this week has meant many thousands of dollars to Okanagan farmers. This district was threatened with a serious shortage of hay, grain and vegetables on account of the cold Spring, followed by continued drought, but prospects have improved greatly within the past few days.

The first crop of alfalfa is now pretty well cut, and on irrigated land is well up to average.

REPORTS PERSIST ABOUT EX-CZAR

Foreign Minister Tchitcherin Said to Have Notified Grand Ducal Court of Hesse That Nicholas Was Murdered.

PARIS, June 28.—The court marshal at Darmstadt, Germany, has received a telegram from M. Tchitcherin announcing that Nicholas Romanoff, former Russian Emperor, had been assassinated, says a dispatch to the Matin from Berne. The assassination took place between Ekaterinburg and Perm.

LONDON, June 28.—The Frankfurter Zeitung reports that M. Tchitcherin, the Russian Foreign Minister, has telegraphed the Russian minister at Darmstadt that the former Russian Czar was murdered a few days ago between Ekaterinburg and Perm, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

AMSTERDAM, June 28.—The Wolff Bureau, the semi-official German news agency, says it has learned from Russian sources that the former Russian Emperor was murdered in a train while leaving Ekaterinburg immediately after that city had been captured by Czecho-Slovak forces. The Wolff Bureau also repeats the report that Alexis, the former Russian crown prince, died a fortnight ago after a long illness.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Ukraine newspapers reports quoted in German official wireless bulletins say the former Czar Nicholas was killed by a Russian Red Guard in a personal quarrel. Another German bulletin states rumors are current that the family of the former Czar has been taken to Perus.

LONDON, June 28.—At the Russian Embassy it was declared today that no official confirmation had been received of the report that the former Russian Emperor had been assassinated. If the report is true the crime is not a political one, according to the Embassy officials, but merely an act of brutality on the part of an angry guard.

Regarding the unexpected appearance in London of Alexander Kerensky, the former Premier of Russia, the Embassy said it knew of his presence here for several days, but chose to let him take his own time for revealing himself.

The dispatch from Paris gives weight to the increasing number of reports of the assassination of the former Russian Emperor. Darmstadt is the capital of the Grand Duchy of Hesse, and the former Empress Alexandra Feodorovna is a sister of the reigning Grand Duke. It is not unlikely that the Russian Foreign Minister Tchitcherin would inform the Hessian court of the death of Nicholas Romanoff before making it public through regular channels.

Berlin had reported recently that the former Emperor was being removed from Ekaterinburg to Moscow. Perm is on the northern railroad from Ekaterinburg to Moscow. Czecho-Slovak troops control the southern route, and it is probable that if the Bolsheviki did take the former Emperor from Ekaterinburg they took him by the railroad running through Perm.

The former Russian Empress was last reported as being in Ekaterinburg with her husband and daughters.

SOLDIERS WIN VICTORIA CROSS

Eleven New Awards Are Announced by London Gazette —Notable Deeds of Private Beesley, of Rifle Brigade.

LONDON, June 28.—(By Reuter's Ottawa Agency).—The London Gazette announces the award of 11 new Victoria Crosses. Nearly all the recipients are from English county regiments. There is one Canadian regiment.

The stories record, as usual, super bravery, mostly in attack, of which the following are examples:

Second Lieut. Schofield, of the Lancashire Fusiliers, with nine men, by great daring and by clever dispositions, captured 140 of the Germans.

Sergt. Woodall, of the Rifle Brigade, single-handed captured a machine gun and eight men and then collected 10 of his own men and captured a farm and 30 more prisoners.

But perhaps the most remarkable story recorded is that of the deeds of Pte. Beesley, of the Rifle Brigade. When all the officers and non-commissioned officers had been killed in attack, Pte. Beesley took command of the company, led the assault and captured single-handed an enemy post, killed two Germans at their machine gun and then shot dead an officer who tried to take their place. Three more officers came out from the dugout. Beesley shot one who attempted to destroy a map. Beesley seized the map and made prisoners of the other two officers. Four more officers came out, and these Beesley also disarmed and sent back as prisoners. A comrade then brought up a Lewis gun, which Beesley used with great effect against the retreating enemy. Pte. Beesley was now alone with his comrade, but they held on to the position for four hours under heavy fire. The enemy then advanced to counter-attack and Beesley's companion was wounded. Nevertheless, Beesley with his Lewis gun kept back the enemy until long after the posts on his left had been wiped out. When darkness came Beesley moved back to the original line, bringing with him his wounded companion and the gun. He then mounted the gun and kept it going against the enemy until things had quieted down. The Gazette says his indomitable pluck, skilful shooting and good judgment in economising ammunition stamp this incident as one of the most brilliant in recent operations.

CONCILIATION BOARD HAS FURTHER WORK

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 28.—Another conciliation board will start work at 2 p.m. Saturday, or rather an existing board will take on a new task. Ottawa has wired formal ratification of the appointment of the board at present hearing the street car men's case to hear that of the electrical workers also, and will only in the instance of the B. E. Electric Railway Co., but also of the Western Power Co. of Canada. The board will sit in its new capacity at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Western Power Co. has nominated Mr. F. F. Busteed as its representative, but has accepted the suggestion made at Ottawa. The course now is clear for the double hearing, and all the disputes affecting the transportation, light and power systems of the city are technically under adjudication today and will be literally so tomorrow.

The members of the board are: Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald, of the Supreme Court, chairman; Mr. F. Buscombe for the employers and Mr. T. J. Coughlin for the men.

MEN OF DWINSK REACH SAFETY

Twenty-Four Survivors From Torpedoed Vessel Landed in Nova Scotia—Drifted in Boat for Eight Days.

SHELBURNE, N. S., June 28.—Twenty-four of the crew of the former Russian steamship Dwinsk, which was torpedoed 700 miles southeast of New York June 18, were landed at Sandy Point, near here, late last night by the Gloucester fishing schooner James M. Marshall. They had been drifting in an open lifeboat for eight days before they were picked up by the Gloucester vessel and subsisted all that time on a small quantity of ship's biscuits and water. When rescued they had only one day's supply of water and two day's rations of biscuits left.

Phillip Larbellestier, of Devonport, England, boatswain's mate, who was in command of the lifeboat, said this morning the Dwinsk was torpedoed without warning. The torpedo struck the steamer's port quarter and she sank rapidly. The captain at once ordered the crew, numbering 140, to take to the boats, of which they were seven.

"We all got away safely," said Larbellestier, "but some of our boats had a narrow escape, as the submarine shelled the steamer as we were rowing away and some of the projectiles came unpleasantly close to us. The submarine was submerged when she launched the torpedo at the Dwinsk, and the first we saw of her was when she opened fire."

The boatswain's mate said that the steamer's seven lifeboats left together that afternoon, but during the night they separated and next morning his boat was all alone. It had a compass, but no chart, and although he knew his position roughly, his navigation was mostly guesswork. He estimated that his boat sailed or drifted 600 miles north and northwest from the point where the Dwinsk was torpedoed.

"During that time," he said, "we sighted one small steamer and two small schooners, but they kept at a safe distance, evidently taking us for a submarine craft.

"The Gloucester fishing schooner James M. Marshall, Captain Rodriguez, bound for the fishing banks, rescued us at 7:30 o'clock last Wednesday morning, when we were about 60 miles south of Seal Island, N. S.

"The fishermen evidently were not afraid of us, for they bore down on us and took us on board immediately. I want to say that we have nothing but fine words and appreciation for the treatment accorded us by Captain Rodrigues and his crew."

The rescued men are all British subjects, and all go to Halifax for transportation to England.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The landing of 24 survivors of the steamer Dwinsk at Shelbourne, N.S., today, definitely accounts for all but two boatloads of the crew. Three boatloads containing 67 survivors had been previously reported missing. The vessel was torpedoed June 18, seven hundred miles east of the Delaware Capes.

Two were picked up by a steamer which brought their occupants here; another boatload was rescued and brought to Hampton Roads, Va., and a fourth to Bermuda by a sailing vessel.

SAVAGES KILL ELEVEN IN PARIS

Air Raiders Succeed in Penetrating Defences and Dropping Bombs in City—Much Material Damage Done.

PARIS, June 28.—Eleven persons were killed and 14 others injured through the explosion of bombs dropped by German airmen in last night's raid over the Paris district.

Reports of the raid said there were several groups of enemy machines, which took different courses in an effort to break through the defences.

During the commotion in the air thus created, some of the machines evidently were able to effect a penetration, for bombs began to drop almost immediately.

There was a lull, after which the bombardment again grew in intensity and then finally subsided. The damage done by the raiders is reported as considerable.

President Poincare sent the victims messages of sympathy and solicitude on behalf of the Government.

There were several cases of careless onlookers being wounded by fragments of shells from the anti-aircraft guns.

M. Teyssiere, chief of the Paris fire department, died of suffocation while directing the rescue of victims of Wednesday night's raid.

SIDNEY FAILS TO GET REDUCTION IN RATES

OTTAWA, June 28.—A railway board judgment just issued reaffirms the right of railways to give reduced rates to points where a railway has to meet water competition.

The application under consideration was that of the Board of Trade at Sidney, B. C., which wanted the board to rule that coast terminal rates should apply to shipments to Sidney, via the Great Northern and Canadian Northern Car Ferry services from Vancouver City. Sidney is located on Vancouver Island, and is 18 miles nearer to Vancouver than is Victoria, but the rates to Victoria are lower than those that apply to Sidney.

The board finds that as Victoria is a port for ocean going vessels and there is actual competition via the Panama Canal, and other water routes, the railway company is justified in maintaining the lower rates to Victoria, without making them applicable to intermediate non-competitive points like Sidney.

PRESIDENT WATCHES WAR EXPENDITURE

CHICAGO, June 28.—An intimate picture of President Wilson's familiarity with the industrial phases of America's war preparations was given today by Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the Shipping Board, in an address before a meeting here of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association.

"We are applying manufacturing principles to the shipbuilding business and we find these methods successful," Mr. Hurley said. "Incidentally it may interest you to know that the methods adopted have been followed with close interest by President Wilson.

"I think there is no impropriety in telling you that the President handles all his work so systematically that he finds himself able to give a part of his time even to the more intimate problems of the various departments.

"The President knows more about costs than any of you would believe to be possible in the case of a great war executive. You know that Congress allotted the President as appropriation of $100,000,000 for emergency war purposes. He personally kept his own accounts, and you may be confident that every dollar was carefully expended, under his direction.

"The President has been steadfast in his determination there shall be no profiteering in this war.

"President Wilson's whole thought is given to the successful prosecution of the war, and when the end of it comes, America will have the consciousness that there will be no repetition of it, and that the peace of the world would be secure."

Three Girls Drowned

OTTAWA, June 28.—A triple fatality in which the three oldest daughters of Charles Guilbault, who formerly lived in Ottawa, lost their lives, occurred on Saturday evening at Montebello, a farming settlement near Bear Lake, Ont. The three girls, Dorilda, aged 14; Mary Louise, 11, and Noela, aged 9, were playing in a boat at the edge of the lake while their mother and grandmother had gone to the village to register under the Canada Registration Act. The father and uncle found the bodies in a few minutes, but efforts of resuscitation were in vain.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Without a dissenting vote and with virtually no debate, the House today passed the bill authorizing an additional bond issue of $3,000,000,000.

YESTERDAY'S BY-ELECTION

The sweeping success of Mr. Frank Gioima, the returned soldiers' candidate, at yesterday's by-election will occasion no surprise, for during the contest he enlisted the support of practically every shade of thought in the community. His campaign was clean, vigorous and forceful. He established a definite platform, which, summarized, is one of construction and reconstruction. He stuck to his advocacy of the measures endorsed by those who nominated him, and he succeeded, in a remarkable way, in impressing the people with his sincerity of purpose, the honesty of his aims, and the enthusiastic fashion in which he intends to keep them in the forefront of the legislative programme of the future.

Mr. R. W. Perry and Major W. H. Langley have suffered in no way in public esteem by their defeat. They labored in vain to secure election at a time when the people are heartily sick of party politics. Both gentlemen are highly estimable citizens, and keenly alive to Victoria's welfare and prosperity. Next time one or other of them may have better luck. Major Langley, throughout his campaign, had behind him the full force and prestige of the Provincial Cabinet, but it was unavailing to damn the tide of public sentiment which is now flowing strongly in favor of better terms for those who have made and are making sacrifices in this war. We do not doubt for a moment the personal honesty of intention of either Conservative or Liberal candidate in their advocacy of matters affecting those who have fought in the war, nor do we think the public had any qualms on that score of their fight for election. What the people did, and meant to do, was to entrust the choice of the returned soldiers' organizations with the responsibility of looking after the interests of the war veterans and those of the city at large. That Mr. Frank Gioima will keep his tryst with Victoria we have no manner of doubt. If what we have heard of him, and the abilities he has displayed, are any criterion of how he will act now he has been endowed with political preferment, the public will have no occasion to regret their vote of yesterday. He is straightforward, enthusiastic, and a staunch believer in the truest of British doctrines—that honesty is the best policy in all affairs of life.

The moral pointed by the result of the election is one to which politicians would do well to give heed. It was principles, not personalities; measures, not men, that swayed public opinion. Modern sentiment is crystallising into the desire for a square deal all round. We venture to believe this attitude of the public mind found its expression in the election of a returned soldiers' candidate, for, rightly or wrongly, there is an opinion abroad that the rigid adherents of party politics are handicapped in dealing with some of the most pressing of modern problems. The public are keenly alive to the issues of the times; they want them solved and the solutions found with the minimum of delay. They realize, otherwise, there are troublous days ahead. There are matters, such as the returned soldier problem, which transcend in importance and in the estimation of the people all party shibboleths and worn-out political doctrines, which may reassert themselves when peace comes again, but which are now silenced by the thunder of the guns. The gravity of the times demands political introspection, and possibly a new alignment of the forces of ins and outs. But what is required more than anything else is greater all-round co-operation. It will need the wisdom of all of us concentrated all the time, first, to achieve victory in this war, and then to make rich and fruitful blessings flow in the new world of freedom we so keenly anticipate will be a development of the future.

THE NEXT GERMAN BLOW

Military commentators are speculating on where the next German thrust will be attempted. It is taken for granted the enemy will resume the offensive, as indeed he must, if he is, in any way, to justify its inception in the eyes of his people. The last great check in the advance on the road to Paris by way of Compiegne will cause the German High Command to think twice before again attempting to move forwards between Montdidier and Ribecourt. It does not seem possible either he will endeavor to press westwards from the Marne front, where the Allies have been heavily reinforced. The general trend of opinion is the next offensive will come on the British front, in a renewed effort to reach Amiens and the Channel ports. Those who have dealt with the possible locations of the opening blow do not seem to have entertained the idea of the Verdun front, and yet German military strategy might easily conceive much prestige would be won by the capture of the historic city whose name will be enshrined for ever in the annals of this war.

One thing is certain, namely, that the failure of the Austrian offensive against Italy will spur on Germany to renewed efforts. In the meantime it is obvious the Allies are striving hard to upset her plans for concentrating forces on any particular section of her front. Aerial activity is very pronounced, and trench raids and local attacks are of almost daily occurrence. Yesterday's fighting showed an offensive spirit in both British and French armies which is a happy augury for the immediate future. At the eastern end of the Nieppe forest the British made an important advance, important because it has greatly strengthened their positions in that sector. Southwest of Soissons the French made a local attack on a somewhat larger scale, in the course of which they captured over 1,000 prisoners. The process of keeping the enemy busily engaged on different sectors of his front is being pursued unceasingly, and all the time the British, French and Americans are steadily improving their positions, and thus will be all the stronger on the defensive when the next thrust comes.

There is one other development which will serve to sway whatever offensive policy Germany has in view. The speech of Dr. von Kuehlmann, in which he admitted a military decision in the war was not to be expected, has proved too painfully candid for the Pan-Germans. They are thirsting for his dismissal from office, and their influence will also probably be brought to bear on the military leaders in urging them to disprove the Foreign Secretary's word by actions on the battlefield. But at the same time there is no doubt whatever Dr. von Kuehlmann's pronouncement was sanctioned by the Government, who, however, will not hesitate to sacrifice him if what he said has offended the War Party. That is the German way. At all costs the War Party has to be appeased, and that is why we anticipate the military leaders will clamor for another great effort in the West to attempt to disprove the utterance of the Foreign Secretary and to efface the memory of Austria's defeat on the Piave.

SWIMMING BATHS

There can no longer be any question of the widespread interest in swimming which prevails in Victoria after the spectacle of the thousands who attended Thursday evening's races at the Gorge. It seems the time is opportune to bring to the fore again the desirability of the establishment of public swimming baths in the city. This project has been mooted very often, and it is one which must become a reality some time. It may not be possible to have the baths established while the war is in progress, but good would result from keeping the subject on the tapis, and especially at a time like this, when interest in swimming is increasing so rapidly. This Summer there are more pupils learning the art than ever in the past in this vicinity. That in itself is an excellent sign of awakening appreciation of the great importance of being able to swim. The teaching of the young will redound to the city's advantage from a health standpoint, for there is no exercise that is better.

We still have a public swimming baths committee, and, while quiescent, it has not forgotten the purpose for which it was formed. In writing as we do it is with the object of pointing out the desirability of giving the matter a further fillip at this time. Much of the opposition to the project has died away. In fact we venture to say in the future those opposed to such an expenditure will be a very small proportion of our population, especially when it is shown swimming baths can easily be made more than self-supporting, and, in the course of time, with careful administration, much, if not all the initial expenditure can be liquidated.

It is a pity not to encourage by every possible means the present enthusiasm for this great sport, which can be shared in by young and old alike and which is so essentially health-giving. With a school population such as we possess, there should be facilities for swimming all the year round. This is an aim we should keep in view for realisation as soon as possible after the war. In the meantime the more interest can be aroused in the matter the sooner accomplishment will be possible when conditions are more auspicious.

JOHN G. SULLIVAN RETIRES FROM C.P.R.

WINNIPEG, June 28.—John G. Sullivan, who has been chief engineer of the western lines of the C. P. R. for a number of years, is retiring from that position on July 1.

He probably will engage in private practice, but will also retain his connection with the railway company in a consulting capacity. For the present it is his intention to take a rest because of a slight impairment of health due to the strain of his heavy duties, more particularly the construction of the Connaught Tunnel through the Selkirks.

Calling for Home Rule

LONDON, June 28.—The British Labor Conference at its concluding session here today passed a resolution calling on the Dominion statesmen now sitting in the conference at London to insist on the British Government settling the Irish question by granting to Ireland a large measure of home rule.

CAPTAIN BARTLETT RECEIVES HONOR

OTTAWA, June 28.—The Royal Geographical Society has this year awarded the Back grant to Captain R. A. Bartlett for distinguished leadership after the loss of the C. G. S. Karluk, according to an announcement which was made today by the Naval Department. This grant, which consists of a sum of £14 was founded by the celebrated Arctic explorer, the late Admiral Sir George Back, for the reward and encouragement of scientific geographers and discoverers.

It will be remembered that Captain Bartlett commanded the motor schooner Karluk, on which the Stefansson expedition left Victoria in the Spring of 1913 to carry out exploration work in the Beaufort Sea and the Arctic regions. The ship was caught in the ice, and during the Winter of 1913-14 drifted across the Arctic Ocean and was finally crushed and sank some distance north of Herald Island.

Captain Bartlett took charge of the survivors and led them back to Wrangel Island. Accompanied by one Eskimo, he then undertook the dangerous ice journey across the straits to the Siberian mainland and then overland to Emma Harbor, whence he took passage for Alaska to advise the Naval Department of the wreck of his ship and the plight of his companions. As the result of his courage and skill in undertaking this trip relief parties were organized and the survivors of the Karluk were brought back to civilization.

VANCOUVER DEALS WITH B.C. ELECTRIC

VANCOUVER, June 28.—By an understanding between the city council and the B. C. Electric Company the period before the expiration of which the city must give notice of its intention to purchase the electric transportation system or allow the franchise to be automatically renewed, was extended two months, terminating October 11 in lead of August 11.

In the meantime conferences will be held between representatives of the company and the city council and other public organizations of the city looking toward the development of a new franchise, which will be acceptable to both company and public, and which will provide for various contingencies in operation and service which have arisen in modern city transportation. Important modification of light and power rates are expected as a concession from the company.

OUTLAWS ARE BUSY IN QUEBEC PROVINCE

QUEBEC, June 28.—Evidences of a series of daring raids and looting of a number of registrar's offices in rural Quebec reached the city today.

At St. Luce de Botugard, Montmagny county, on Wednesday, the deputy registrar's office, under the direction of J. A. L. Rodrigue, was looted, and the cards that had been filled in were destroyed in a large bonfire in the street.

At Beaquam the deputy registrar's office, under Ernest Laliberte, suffered the same fate.

In Beauce county, at St. Egidson, St. Ludger and St. Francis, the registrar's offices also were looted, but it was not known whether the cards were destroyed. At Francis, it is reported dynamite was resorted to to destroy the office, but the fuse failed to work.

OFFICERS ON LEAVE MAY STAY AT HOME

WINNIPEG, June 28.—A special dispatch to the Free Press today from its Ottawa correspondent says:

"Many officers now on leave in Canada will not be compelled to return. By an arrangement recently made, officers home on 'compassionate' leave are turned over to the Adjutant-General's disposal here and struck off the strength of the overseas forces. These include men who have been allowed to come on leave for domestic reasons or for other reason designated 'compassionate.'

"There are no more coming; leave for any reason whatever is now refused overseas.

"Such men instead of being responsible to the overseas organization, will be at the disposal of the authorities here. Some will be placed in charge of depot battalions, some will be put on instructional work, some may again be sent overseas."

PEMBERTON-BILLING BOUNCES UP AGAIN

LONDON, June 28.—Noel Pemberton-Billing, whose activities include a crusade against all persons of German origin, attacked Sir Albert Stanley, President of the Board of Trade, in the House of Commons this evening. He elicited the reply that Sir Albert's family name was Knatteries, that he was from Derbyshire, and had no foreign blood.

Mr. Pemberton-Billing put the following question to Andrew Bonar Law, the Government spokesman in the House of Commons:

"Is the President of the Board of Trade a German of the name of Knuttmer, and does he hold his position through the influence of a German who is now working out the damnation of this country in America?"

Mr. Bonar Law replied that he knew Sir Albert Stanley had no German blood or connections.

Sir Albert promptly explained the matter to the House. He said that his father and mother were born in Derbyshire, that the family was English from many generations back, and had no trace of foreign blood. Knatteries was an old English name, but very difficult to pronounce, hence his parents had changed it after he had resided for some years in America. This statement was greeted with cheers and laughter.

Typhoid Among German Soldiers

AMSTERDAM, June 28.—Rumors are in circulation, says the Echo Belge, that an epidemic of typhoid is raging among the German soldiers in Northern France. Several units are reported to have had virtually their entire personnel affected by this disease. This, together with losses in the last offensive, is said to account for the delay in resuming the offensive.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Colonist, June 29, 1868).

A New Engine of War.—A Paris correspondent speaks of some new engine of war tried in May at Meudon, having been found to exceed in rapidity and power of destruction even the secret gun, of the private trials of which by the Emperor we have heard so much. The trial was strictly private, of course, but I can report the remark of a general officer who was present: "It is the most wonderful weapon I ever saw. I should say that a battle would now last about half an hour."

The steamer Enterprise left yesterday morning for New Westminster. She took 40 tons of freight and several passengers.

Carelessness With Powder

TORONTO, June 28.—Again the administration of the Royal Air Force here was criticised by a coroner's jury. The jury, presided over by Dr. H. J. Tandy, returned a verdict last night attributing the death of Harry Chapman to "great negligence on the part of the military authorities in the storing of powder and allowing the troops and public generally to smoke where the same was stored." Chapman was killed by the explosion of powder at the R. A. F. wireless station when he went to summon to dinner the operator who was billeted at the house. He placed a lighted cigarette on top of a box of forty pounds of gunpowder. He is survived by a widow and six children.

HOW JULY 1 WAS MARKED IN FRANCE

Lady Recently Returned From England describes How Six Thousand Soldiers' Graves Were Decorated.

It may not be generally known in Canada that the anniversary of Confederation, which is once more to be celebrated throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion, was the occasion of a solemn ceremony behind the fighting line last year, 6,000 Canadian soldiers' graves in far-off France being decorated with flowers and flags by the nurses, doctors, orderlies and soldiers stationed in the neighborhood of Etaples. This being a big hospital base, there were many nursing sisters to undertake the work of placing the flowers and little Union Jacks on the neatly-kept mounds with their simple crosses.

The story has been brought back to Canada by a Victoria lady who had the incident described to her in England by Colonel Bowie, C.A.M.C. The ceremony began at 5:30 in the morning. Squads of nurses were detailed to different sections of the big cemetery. The placing of the wreaths and crosses occupied but a short time. Then came the service, and every Canadian within the area for miles around who could possibly get away was there. Afterwards the nurses reassembled again in squads and went among the graves collecting the little flags which had been placed thereon, the names of the graves from which they were taken being noted and the patriotic souvenir being folded up and sent to the next-of-kin of the respective men.

Massed bands took part in the commemoration rites, which had a double significance they have not yet come to bear on this side the Atlantic.

CAPT. ARTHUR, M.C., KILLED IN FRANCE

Capt. Hugh Arthur, M. C., who joined up with the 88th Fusiliers the day war was declared, was killed in France by a shell on May 29th.

Leaving here with the 88th Battalion, Capt. Arthur got a commission in the 11th Northumberland Fusiliers and went to France. He received the Military Cross in the first Battle of the Somme, and was invalided home suffering from shell-shock. Being unfit for active service for some time, he trained men at Newcastle-on-Tyne, and then returned to France several months ago.

He leaves a widow and a child of ten months in the Old Country, and an only brother, Mr. H. W. Arthur, works for the Munitions Board here.

Capt. Arthur was a well-known cricketer here, and made many friends, who will be very sorry to hear of his death.

INFANTRYMAN'S LIFE VIVIDLY DESCRIBED

Former 103rd Battalion Man Gives Intimate Glimpses of Work and Rest Time in the Fighting Zone.

A former 103rd Battalion boy, J. M. Cardwell, who has since reaching France been with the 2nd C. M. R., has written a vivid description of some phases of an infantryman's life, which gives a rather more intimate glimpse of things than most of the men overseas find time to unveil.

"After days and nights of ceaseless vigil in the front line, utterly worn out through lack of sleep and the hard work and stern conditions of the trenches, your hearts would go out to him," he writes of the infantryman.

"If he is coming out for a few days' rest in billets in rotting barns and shell-shattered cottages, even then his nights will be spent in the line working in the mud and rain, repairing the damage done by the enemy's artillery, or out in No Man's Land putting up wire entanglements. . . . But in the daytime he will get a few hours' rest and sleep. He will feed regularly and will spend many hours scraping the mud from his clothes. He may perhaps have a bath and be able to keep himself reasonably clean. He counts all these as luxuries he has dreamed of. He is one of the smart platoon which marched so jauntily through the French villages a few weeks ago. He had a jest for everybody, and a song was continually on his lips. Every man was fit and strong after his sojourn down the line. Bravely they stepped to the song. Now they cannot march, they cannot even keep step. They stagger in their walk, and the smallest obstacle causes them to trip. Their eyes are almost closed, and they are caked with mud from boots to head. Down the shell-smashed road they stagger singly or in twos or threes, the senior N.C.O. bringing up the rear. The officer makes no attempt to keep his men in formation. He knows they are living on their emergency rations of energy, and he himself, unencumbered by rifle or equipment, sways from side to side as he goes.

Utter Exhaustion

"Presently they reach their billets. With an effort they will jerk the equipment from their backs, and placing their rifles within reach, will drop to the floor. Be it earth or the cold, hard stone, they will sleep that sleep which only utter exhaustion brings. If there is tea, they will keep their tired eyes open till it arrives, and then they will drink thirstily. The majority will touch nothing else. In the morning they will awaken stiff and sore in every limb. A wash, a shave, and a change of shirt and they are new men.

"In the evening, having removed as much mud as possible from their persons, and having wrapped their legs, arms and rifles with sandbags as a prevention from acquiring new mud, they will be ready for the line again. For the next week they are to supply working parties. This is an infantryman's rest.

The Line

"The line is a hard and merciless master, and he who serves in the line knows little rest. Time and again the infantryman marches up with a smile on his face and a song on his lip. Again and again he staggers down, and one day remains behind—with the line.

"If you could see him in the jumping-off trench, waiting to go over, crouched against a parapet. He endures the bombardment, whilst the shells burst on the trenches, blowing them in, and the whole place reeks of high explosive and blood. In a short time the place is a shambles. Those wounded who can make shift to crawl look after themselves. Even then the stretcher-bearers have more work than they can cope with, and they do not worry about those still and quiet ones.

"And then the attack sweeps forward. At the word the infantrymen scramble from their trenches. Nobody thinks of staying behind, and it could easily be done.

"Clutching tightly their rifles with bayonets fixed, they go straight to their objective, knowing the stern work that awaits them there, the feverish hours of consolidation and the inevitable shelling and counter-attack. The enemy's barrage thins, but does not stay them. Rapid fire breaks out along the German line, and the crack of the machine-gun is like a blow to the face. They have one prayer in their hearts—that the enemy wire may be broken. It is not a pleasant sight to see a platoon caught on the wire. It is not a sporting chance for the infantryman.

Infantryman on Post

"Standing at his post, his ears bared to the biting wind, his hands and feet freezing, his brain stupid with the cold, he dreams of home, that desirable place to be prayed and longed for infinitely. Lying cramped in his tiny dug-out or stretched on the floor of a comfortless barn, he tries to conjure up the picture of a time when there shall be peace on earth and war shall be no more.

"Think of a mockery of a Christmas in the trenches! How he longs for life, this infantryman, and the tremendous small things which, nothing to the man at home, are luxuries to him. Can you see him, striving, fighting, and dying, that you may live in comfort at home? Can you see his parents, his wife, his children, his sweetheart, praying daily for his safety, hoping blindly for his return? And he knows that theirs is even a harder part than his. And can you see the stricken towns and villages of Belgium and France, the thousands of homeless wives and children, the black-garbed women, the splendid manhood of France and Britain rotting on the Somme fields? With this awful knowledge no man with a spark of patriotism, a gleam of pity, or love, would rest until this terrible blight had been swept from Europe. Give the Infantryman a strong backing. Give him a sporting chance."

WILL "GO OVER" SOON

Capt. A. C. Futcher, Who Left With Draft From Willows in April, Now in England.

Capt A. C. Futcher, who left Victoria in charge of a draft of officers and men from the Willows camp on April 16, arrived at Seaford, England, on May 28. Almost immediately on his arrival in the Old Land he succeeded in obtaining leave for London, where he eventually secured the consent of the Canadian authorities to rejoin his old battalion, the 15th (48th Highlanders of Canada) and to get back to France.

Captain Futcher made several applications to rejoin while he was in Canada, but was always refused, too many officers, he was informed, already being in England. But he has at last realized his hopes, and reported at his Battalion Reserve Depot at Witley on June 19, expecting to leave for France at almost any time.

Shell Shock From Explosion

MONTREAL, June 28.—As a result of the recent explosion of ten tons of dynamite in the north end of the city, a number of cases similar to shell shock are being reported. Many women went into the night screaming, and a number who work in downtown offices are not yet able to return to their desks. In some instances the shell shock did not manifest itself until hours after the explosion, as has been noted so often at the front in France.

SOLDIER CANDIDATE GIVEN WARM WELCOME

Patrons at Army and Navy Veterans' Entertainment Extend Cordial Reception to Ex-Pte. Giolma.

Following the announcement of the election results last evening, throngs of people turned their steps towards the Alexandra House gardens, Douglas Street, to attend the cafe chantant and variety entertainment given by the Army and Navy Veterans. Those who attended the fete in anticipation of hearing the successful candidate were not disappointed in their hopes, for at 10 o'clock, ex-Pte. Frank Giolma, the representative-elect of the returned soldiers in Victoria, arrived at the scene of the festivities and was given a warm reception by his enthusiastic supporters and former comrades in the great war.

The grounds were brilliantly illuminated and furnished a very pretty setting for the daintily-arranged tea tables, at which the patrons enjoyed the tempting refreshments served by the members of Herbert Beaumont Boggs Chapter, "J" Unit Chapter and Robert Burns McMicking Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire, during the entertainment programme.

In addition to the vocal numbers rendered by Mrs. R. H. Pooley, Miss Lillian Haggerty, Miss Mamie Fraser, Mr. George Menelaws and Sergt.-Major Merryweather, all of whom received enthusiastic applause, there were songs and dances contributed by the pierotte quartette, numbering the Misses Gertrude, Birdie, Trissie and Rita Hunt, who proved immensely popular with the delighted audience.

At the conclusion of the concert programme large numbers adjourned to the ballroom of Alexandra House, where a dance programme furnished by the newly-organized band of the Army and Navy Veterans, playing for the first time at the fete, was enjoyed by a large number of young people. The Veterans hope to be able to announce a substantial amount realized from the event, which will probably be the first of a series of similar affairs arranged for the benefit of their funds during the Summer months. Mr. Robert Wicks had charge of the receipts at the entrance to the grounds.

CHINAMAN FINED FOR ASSISTING DESERTER

Sam, Living at Cobble Hill, Shelters Soldier From Willows—Was Fined $100.

Sam, a Chinaman, was charged on June 25, before J. R. Saunders and W. J. Cave, justices of the peace, with unlawfully assisting James A. Hogg, a deserter. Major Gook, Assistant Provost Marshal, and Mr. Cox, of the Dominion police, prosecuted, with Tim Kee as interpreter. The accused pleaded not guilty.

In giving testimony James A. Hogg said that he was a deserter from the Willows on March 16 and that he went to Cobble Hill and stayed at Sam's place. He visited the place on and off until about April 10, having his meals there. Last Tuesday he visited the house again.

Pte. Brogam said that he had arrested accused at Cobble Hill last Friday, when Sam said that he had not seen Hogg for three months.

Sam testified that he had told his son not to let Hogg come to his house, as he did not like him. His son Dan was a friend of Hogg.

Mrs. Sam, called for the defence, said that Hogg stayed with them, but was not supposed to have his meals there.

The court found Sam guilty and fined him $100, or, in default of payment, three months' imprisonment. The fine was paid.

BIG SHIPS MUST BE DOCKED HERE

But Freight-Handling Facilities Are Wanting and Ferry Service Is Inadequate, Board of Trade Finds.

With the completion of the new Outer Docks Victoria need fear the competition of no other port in the Pacific Northwest, but until such time as the project is carried out, the city must make the best of a somewhat unsatisfactory situation.

This was the substance of the facts brought out yesterday morning at a meeting of the Board of Trade Council by transportation and labor men. It was pointed out that inadequate storing and ferry facilities here were the cause of any tendency evidenced on the part of Japanese shipping companies to send their vessels on to the Mainland, omitting the Victoria call.

It was incidentally announced by President Joshua Kingham that tenders were being called on Tuesday for the construction of the $50,000 shed on the Ogden Point pier, according to advices received by Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M.P., from Ottawa.

Mr. Kingham called attention to the fact that the Osaka Shosen Kaisha's liner Arabia Maru had been ordered to pass up Victoria on its eastbound passage and go direct from the William Head quarantine station to Vancouver. He pointed out that unless Victoria retained its shipping the expenditure of millions on breakwater and harbor improvements would go for nought.

Labor Not to Blame

Mr. Joseph Taylor, of the Longshoremen's Union, declared emphatically that labor was not responsible for the situation. It was not a question of how fast a vessel could be unloaded, but how long the freight remained on the wharf, and the labor supply had no control over that phase of the problem. He stated that Victoria had lost practically all it ever had of the fish export and trans-shipment business, because Seattle had better storage facilities and the fish interests soon learned it was better business to go to the Puget Sound port.

"There is no use in hiding the facts," asserted Mr. Taylor. "Victoria has not got a dock that is really well equipped. The Rithet wharf has not even got a hand derrick. But I can say this: If the new docks are equipped in keeping with their foundation they will be second to none between Nome and San Diego. With the car slip and ferry in operation, the Oriental ships will naturally discharge cargoes here. In Vancouver the Government docks could not begin to compare with ours. Vancouver hasn't a dock that approaches anything in Seattle, San Francisco, and San Pedro, with the exception of the Government dock."

Employment Casual

Victoria, however, could never expect to take a major portion of the waterbound freight until it had better handling facilities, Mr. Taylor contended. He went on to say that longshoremen employment here was very casual, although there were naturally periods of congestion.

Mr. Kingham explained the present case was an emergency one, and there was no use in looking too far into the future. He asked if the longshoremen would agree to work side by side with soldiers or outsiders paid union rates in times of congestion.

Mr. Taylor maintained that such a proposal would not lead to a solution of the problem. He claimed that the congestion was because the C.P.R. ferry boats between here and the Mainland had all they could handle, and that was the reason for the tie-up. He continued by saying that the reason Vancouver did not handle as much freight as Seattle was because its sheds were narrower and the handling was awkward. Work naturally was delayed. The same condition applied to Victoria.

Mr. William Allan, agent of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, said that labor was partly responsible for the present situation, and illustrated his contention by saying that a small freighter had been forced to remain empty overnight on account of the shortage of carriers. There should be some means of getting extra help in cases of temporary shortage.

Shortage of Longshoremen

That conscription had hit the shipping business at this port a staggering blow was the claim of Capt. G. McGregor. He said there was unquestionably an all-round shortage of labor. None of the shipping companies applied for exemption for any of their employees outside the officers. He endorsed Mr. Allan's statements and asked Mr. Taylor again if the longshoremen would not submit to having outsiders help in unloading when in cases of emergency.

"We would not only allow them, as we have always done in the past, but we are ready to go after them," assured Mr. Taylor, who added that he had spent part of the morning in rustling longshoremen from the streets. He said the union would prefer, however, to have their own men work in the holds. "Perhaps the longshoreman is looked upon as very unskilled," he said, "but he required a great deal of experience to handle the work expeditiously and safely.

"Regarding these ships going on to Vancouver and Seattle, there is nothing new about it," said Mr. Taylor. "Steamers have been passing up Victoria for years, even when we have had jobless men walking the streets."

Work Together

Mr. Alex. Watchman, organiser for the carpenters and shipwrights, stated that Victoria had been lax in fighting for wharf facilities.

Mr. Kingham believed that if the Board of Trade and labor worked together in the matter important results could be accomplished. The Board of Trade had been working hard for the wharves. It had been simply a case of slow action at Ottawa.

Labor was ready to co-operate any time there was an opportunity, said Mr. Watchman. Centralization of effort had won a good many things in the past and it could do no harm in the present instance. He further stated that the Trades and Labor Council would support any resolution the Board of Trade might take in the matter.

"CRYING FOR MOON" MAY WRECK PLATFORM

Returned Soldiers Warned by Member-Elect Giolma Not to Expect Too Much—Results Must Come Slowly.

Joyous shouts greeted Pte. Frank Giolma everywhere he appeared last night after the announcement of his overwhelming success at the polls.

A few minutes after the final bulletin had been posted he appeared on the balcony of the Kent Hotel, in company with his campaign manager, Mr. Beaumont Boggs, and several other workers, and after introducing Mrs. Giolma to the enthusiastic gathering he said that all who had worked and voted for him had been true comrades, all had gone over the top in a body, and there were but two casualties to be recorded, those being Messrs. Bowser and Oliver. He said that this was no ordinary election, that from sea to sea the word would travel that a mere private had won against both the political machines. He felt that the defeated candidates had fought a good clean fight, and that as all were truly British they were able to shake hands after a fight.

Mr. R. W. Perry then appeared on the balcony, and after stating that he had smiled all through the campaign and was able to do so still, he congratulated the winner and shook hands heartily with him, a course followed immediately by Major Langley, who said that he was glad the result had been so decisive.

Carried Him Shoulder High

Amid cheers Mr. Giolma was then carried shoulder high to the rooms of the Great War Veterans, where a series of speeches were made by Mrs. T. Palmer, who occupied the chair, and many of the returned soldiers.

Addressing the densely packed gathering, Mr. Giolma warned the returned men against "crying for the moon," stating that in the course of time every one of the planks which formed the returned soldiers' platform would be incorporated in the law of the land, but that things would only change slowly, and that too much was not to be expected at once.

First Win of Many

He felt that his election as a returned soldier was but the fore-runner of many such contests, in which he felt sure the returned men would be supported by the general body of the public.

He thanked the non-military voter and the women for the support which had been given to him, and pointed out to the returned soldiers that as soon as they had combined their forces, settled their own differences and had laid a clear-cut demand before the people, the demand had been met in full. From this he drew the moral that the prime necessity during the coming years would be unity among the returned men, and warned them that there would be many interests at work trying to split them. He closed an address much broken by cheering with the statement that, should his actions at the House at any time meet with the disapproval of the returned soldiers, he would at once "step down and out."

Splendid Opportunities

The Rev. Comyn Ching, who was greeted with rounds of cheering, addressing the successful candidate, said: "I could almost wish, sir, that this great honor was mine; that I had your splendid opportunities. I am sure that you will shoulder them manfully. You will be watched, and with the great body of public opinion behind you you will be able to force legislation which will make the whole country sit up and take notice."

He then suggested that if at any time the new member should find himself in difficulty in getting results, word to the returned men would quickly lead to the holding of a big demonstration and a similar meeting in the Royal Victoria to that held on Thursday night, feeling sure that such a method of airing the things which required ventilation would do a vast amount of good in the way of bringing the Government to see the required light.

PACIFIC SHIPYARDS TAKE ALL HONORS

Coast Yards Win All Flags Offered by Shipping Board to Stimulate Speed in May.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Shipyards on the Pacific coast made a clean sweep of the honors awarded for the first time by the Emergency Fleet Corporation to plants excelling in construction of vessels.

First honor blue flags, awarded on the basis of output in May, will go to the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation (Union Iron Works plant), San Francisco, for yards building steel ships, and to the Grant-Smith-Porter Company, of St. John, Ore., for the yards building wooden vessels.

Second and third honors among yards building steel ships were awarded to the Skinner & Eddy Corporation, Seattle, Wash., and Moore Shipbuilding Co., of Oakland, Cal., and among yards building wooden ships to the Aberdeen, Wash., yard of the Grant-Smith-Porter Company and the Allen Shipbuilding Co., of Seattle.

Paris Raid is Checked

PARIS, June 28.—Some enemy airplanes flew in the direction of Paris yesterday evening. A few bombs were dropped, but there were no victims. The alarm was sounded at 11:33 p.m. and the "All Clear" signal at 12:30 o'clock this morning.

LACK OF SHIPS HITS WEST COAST

Board of Trade Told That Big Mining Concern Will Close Down if Situation Continues.

On account of inadequate transportation facilities, extensive mining operations on the West Coast may be forced to close down.

Mr. Wesley W. Warren, consulting engineer of the Tidewater Copper Company and Alaska-British Columbia Metals Company, went before the Council of the Board of Trade yesterday and made the statement that unless it was possible to get a steamed to his company's plant at Sidney Inlet, in Clayoquot Sound, within the next few days operations would have to cease for the duration of the war.

The discussion, which was taken up by members of the Council, resulted in the appointment of a committee to investigate West Coast transportation problems as applying not only to the two specific companies represented by Mr. Warren, but to all other corporations in that section that are suffering the same hardship.

The Tidewater Copper Company, which is the largest institution of its kind on the West Coast, has expended $170,000 in getting under way, and about 80 per cent. of this money has been spent in Victoria. The company's pay roll runs to $5,000 when in full operation. The concern operates the only flotation plant in the district that has made a total extraction of products.

The C. P. R., it is said, is at present unable to make any definite statement as to whether or not a suitable vessel will be available within the time specified. Mr. Warren says he has ore awaiting shipment today, and the committee will make an effort to learn what possibilities there are in getting immediate steam connection.

SETTLES DISPUTE WITH MACHINISTS

WINNIPEG, June 28.—The differences that have existed for the last week between the Canadian Pacific Railway Company and its machinists in the Weston shops of the company west adjusted this afternoon by arrangement between the superintendent of motive power and representatives of the men from Moose Jaw, Calgary and Revelstoke.

These representatives of the employees considered the action of the Winnipeg men as precipitate, and unauthorized by the heads of the organizations. The men return to work at once, and the employee in connection with whom the trouble arose remains in the service of the company. Outside of Winnipeg, men were affected at Moose Jaw, Souris and Nelson, B.C.

AMUSEMENTS TODAY

Empress — Vaudeville.

Dominion — Louise Gaum in "Sweetheart of the Doomed," and Charlie Chaplin in "A Dog's Life."

Romano — Franklyn Farnum in "Fast Company."

Royal Victoria — Marguerite Clark in "Rich Man, Poor Man."

Variety — "The Woman Forgotten."

Columbia — "Womanhood: the Glory of the Nation."

PANTAGES THEATRE — There is a fine bill of vaudeville on this week and the Pantages theatre is a cool, comfortable place in which to thoroughly appreciate good entertainment. The bill is full of music and joy. There is not a sob in it.

Next week the Pantages will offer vaudeville for the full six days, opening with continuous performances on Monday, Dominion Day. It's a good bill, too.

DOMINION THEATRE — For the last time today the Dominion will have for its attraction Louise Glaum in "Sweetheart of the Doomed." This picture has splendid action all the way through and the element of heart appeal which is a necessary quality of all successful feature films. In addition to this Charlie Chaplin will be seen for the last time in his succession comedy, "A Dog's Life." This picture has been repeated in response to the insistent demand.

ROYAL VICTORIA — "Rich Man, Poor Man," in which dainty Marguerite Clark is the star on the Royal Victoria Theatre for the last time today, is a photoplay of the highest artistic merits and possessing a dramatic interest and heart appeal seldom seen in a motion picture. The story enunciates the truism that riches do not bring love to the lives of men. It is freely remarked as one of the finest in which Miss Clark has ever appeared.

ROMANO THEATRE — Few players in the motion picture field have taken as many character roles in their screen career as Lon Chaney, who will be seen at the Romano Theatre in support of Franklyn Farnum in "Fast Company." He has played bewhiskered villains, gay and faithless lovers, Shylocks, Germans, spies, burglars, and every form of vice which the motion picture Board of Review permits on the screen.

VARIETY THEATRE — The reproduction of the famous Aztec pyramid of Tecoatli, as seen in the Artcraft production, "The Woman Forgotten," at the Variety Theatre this week, is the largest setting ever built for a motion picture. The pyramid is nearly 200 feet in height and an exact reproduction, in every detail, of the famous temple to the Aztec gods. Over a thousand men take part in the thrilling battle.

CORRESPONDENT IN SEARCH OF A WIFE

Former B. C. Bantam, Now in France, Wishes to Escape Bachelor Tax on Return to Canada.

An unusually naive request comes to The Colonist from an old B.C. bantam, who has evidently set his heart on having the prospect of "A Little Grey Home in the West" to return to when the war is over.

"I am 50 and in good health and strength," he begins before setting forth his frank purpose. "I want to correspond with some woman of about 40 years of age with a view to escaping the bachelor tax when I return to Canada. . . . I intend to take a homestead in British Columbia when I get back."

The would-be-suitor-of-somebody gives a few more particulars which should be taken into consideration, certainly, by anyone who has a sympathetic leaning in his direction on the perusal of the foregoing.

"I was born in England and am a Protestant. I am too old for the firing-line, but am doing my bit pretty close up." He is in the Canadian Corps Water Patrol, France, a very essential section of the army.

As an old subscriber to The Colonist, it is flattering to the firm to know that this B.C. Bantam places such faith in the powers of the newspaper for bringing about happy matrimonial alliances.

HOSPITALS IN FRANCE AIDED BY RED CROSS

Retiring Chief Commissioner, Also Recently Director-General of Medical Services, Pays Warm Tribute.

A supreme tribute to the part which the Red Cross is taking in France was given recently by Lieutenant-General Sir A. T. Sloggett, who, on giving up the post of Director-General of Medical Services in France, is also relinquishing that of Chief Commissioner of the Red Cross, addressed from headquarters to the chairman of the joint war committee of the British Red Cross and the Order of St. John a letter of thanks for the help given.

"The great success of the service which I have had the honor to command out here during the last three years and nine months I attribute in no small measure to the unfailing and very generous assistance I have received from your committee," said Sir A. T. Sloggett. "It would have been impossible to have kept up the extremely high standard of comfort in our military hospitals if the army stores had not been very largely supplemented by the gifts from the British Red Cross Society; their provision of several perfectly-staffed and equipped hospitals, their supply of motor ambulance convoys, and last, but not least, the splendid Store Department, have all contributed enormously to the efficiency and smooth working of the medical service."

PANDORA AVENUE WORK FOUND TOO COSTLY

Streets Committee Told by Engineer That Re-Grading Would Cost Either $25,000 or $110,000.

Taking the stand that such improvements would be unwarranted extravagance at this time, the Streets Committee of the City Council frowned upon City Engineer C. H. Rust's proposals for the grading of Pandora Avenue from Cook to Fort Streets.

Mr. Rust explained that the proposals were outlined in accordance with the request of the Local Improvement Commission. His plans were briefly as follows:

Two estimates were prepared—one of a grade of 5½ per cent.; the other with a grade of 3¾ per cent. Proposal number one will cost approximately $25,000. Proposal number two will cost approximately $110,000. Both provide for the excavation of the street the full width, namely, seventy-six feet.

The first proposal contemplates the excavation of at least ten feet on the top of the hill immediately west of Chambers Street. Neither of them includes any land damages that might accrue in connection with the work.

"It appears to me," reported Mr. Rust, "that under our present financial condition it will be impossible to carry out the second plan. The cost even of the first under the present conditions is high, and it is a question whether the city would be warranted in spending this amount of money at present. The high cost of the work is owing to the large amount of rock that it is necessary to remove.

Mayor Todd remarked that the Federal Government would probably disallow proceeding with such an expensive proposition, even if the city should decide in its favor.

SHIPPING LOSSES DURING PAST MONTH

LONDON, June 24.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—The publication of the Admiralty report announcing the merchant tonnage losses for the month due to enemy actions shows that the marine risk totalled: British, 324,725 tons; Allied and neutral, 136,858 tons; as compared with an adjusted aggregate for April of 311,456 tons, and 334,336 tons in May of last year.

The losses from marine risk are stated to have been unduly heavy last month. The Shipping Ministry announces that steamships of and exceeding 100 gross tons entering and clearing in United Kingdom ports exclusive of coasting and channel traffic, totalled 7,777,845 tons last month.

CREDIT OWING FOR SATISFACTORY RESULT

Mr. R. S. Day, Back From B.C. Hospitals Convention, Tells of Excellence of Arrangements.

"The idea of a British Columbia Hospitals' Convention proved excellent, and for the highly satisfactory way in which the arrangements were carried out the directors and staff of the Vancouver General Hospital deserve special credit. They handled the thing splendidly."

This is what Mr. R. S. Day, chairman of the Jubilee Hospital board of directors, had to say about the convention from which he returned yesterday and which concluded its sessions last evening in Vancouver.

Mr. Day thinks that in all probability the success of this, the first Convention of British Columbia Hospitals ever held, will lead to the holding of similar conventions annually. It was also possible to assume that it would lead to the association of the various hospitals of the Province in a combined effort to bring before the Dominion and Provincial governments and municipalities the need of greater aid to hospital work.

"The papers on the whole were of a very high order of merit," he affirmed. That read on Wednesday evening by Dr. H. E. Young, of the Provincial Department of Health, on the subject of "The Hospital as a Community Service," evoked a considerable amount of surprise in view of the fact that the radical changes outlined therein might be assumed to be a reflection of the Government's views."

In addressing the meeting in the course of one of the discussions Mr. Day himself appealed for uniformity of action among the hospitals. He also acted as chairman of the Thursday morning session.

The exhibit of Red Cross and medical appliances was well worth seeing, Mr. Day declares.

The proceedings of the convention will be published in pamphlet form.

CRICKETERS START ON THE SECOND LAP

Five C's Hold Substantial Lead in Race for the Virtue Cup—Several Strong Teams Are Close Behind.

Virtue Cup Standing

	P.	W.	L.	D.	Pts.
Five C's	6	5	1	0	10
Willows Camp	5	3	2	0	6
Victoria	5	3	2	0	6
Incogs.	6	3	3	0	6
Congregationals	6	2	3	0	4
Albion	5	2	3	0	4
District Depot	6	1	5	0	2

With the positions in the race for the cricket league honors as above, the local clubs start today on the second half of the series for the Virtue Cup.

It will be seen that the Five C's have a commanding lead and they are strong favorites for the place which they held the year before last, after a very hard tussle at the finish of the season between themselves, the Incogs, and the Garrison for first place in the running.

Last year the Incogs. proved invincible, and the Five C's were not very dangerous contenders for the honors they held the previous season, but it looks as if they would be able to continue in the lead this year and once more regain possession of the John Virtue Cup.

The standing show, what has been remarked before in this connection, that the teams this year are very evenly balanced and the general average of the cricket played a high one. Willows Camp and Victoria have each played one game less than the leaders and are each four points behind. It is interesting to notice that the holders of last year's first and last places on the list are bracketed even so far on this season's play. The Incogs. have a strong side, so far as it goes, but, unfortunately, it does not as a rule go far enough to make up a full eleven. The Congregationals have received very welcome reinforcements this year and are playing up with all their old keenness and more than their old success.

The Albions have never quite hit their true stride this year and have lost quite a lot of their old strength. They are practically out of the running now, short of an almost miraculous recovery. The District Depot play a courageous game of cricket, and it is hoped get a good deal of fun out of the game. Allowing for their severe handicap, they have not done nearly so badly as their position might denote and have one good win at any rate to their credit.

The last half of the Virtue Cup schedule should by all appearances prove even more interesting than the first, and the cricket this year has been by no means dull.

The games on today's schedule are as follows:

Five C's play Incogs. at Jubilee Hospital.

Congregationals play Victoria at Beacon Hill Park.

District Depot play Albion at Work Point.

The following will represent Victoria C.C. against the Congos:

Messrs. H. A. Goward (capt.), W. York, E. Middleton, T. Verrall, W. H. M. Robertson, A. F. Mitchell, J. C. Wilson, Sergt. M. H. Stevens, A. Foulds, Lothaby and Dobson.

Other teams will be as already published.

COUGHLAN SCALE TO BE REVISED SOON

Expected New Schedule Will Be Issued on August 1—Higher Rates All Around Anticipated.

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 28.—The Metal Trades executive will meet early next week to make final arrangements to present to the Coughlan yard and other plants affected the new scale to go into effect on August 1. When the shipyard troubles were settled a few weeks ago there were some shops which had arrangements with the men expiring on August 1. These included Coughlan's and certain iron and steel contract shops. The agreement made by Coughlan, independent of the other awards, lasting until August 1, was based on the Macy award, plus 10 per cent. The wages of mechanics under this scale were $5.80. When Senator Robertson arranged the settlement between the men and the other yards mechanics were granted $6. The new agreement with Coughlan and other contract shops will be prepared on this basis at least. Perhaps some slight increase will be asked, based on any increase in the cost of living which has developed since the agreement with the other yards was signed.

Other adjustments of the Robertson agreement will also be sought by the men, there having arisen several instances where men believe the clauses are capable of being interpreted more than one way. The clause pertaining to night work especially will have to be altered, they state.

CONCRETE VESSELS TO BE BUILT IN B.C.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 28.—Six concrete scows are to be built in Vancouver by Mr. C. H. Taylor, a contractor, formerly of this city, but for the past few years located in Seattle. Mr. Taylor is here completing arrangements for the site on which he will establish the plant. He has already obtained the contracts for scows and believes they will cost approximately $14,000 each. They are to be 120 feet long and 42 feet wide. This work, Mr. Taylor intimates, is the forerunner of a concrete shipyard here, according to the plans of himself and associates. With regard to the materials which will be used, he said that in so far as is possible all supplies will be purchased in British Columbia. Mr. Taylor says the outlook for the establishment of a successful shipbuilding business here is as good as it is anywhere. The steamer Faith, built in San Francisco and which arrived here early last month on her maiden voyage, established the feasibility and practicability of concrete as shipbuilding material.

RETURNED MEN'S CANDIDATE WINS

to have been a matter of sentiment and the desire of the electors to see a returned man in the Legislature to represent his fellows. I was not surprised at the outcome. The Government was not an issue in the fight. I believe that Mr. Giolma will give the Government support in helping it to work out its policies in behalf of the returned men."

Mr. W. J. Bowser stated that naturally he would have liked to see the Conservative candidate elected, but, failing that, he was glad that Mr. Giolma was returned with such a magnificent majority to encourage him in his work in the Legislature. The Conservatives at the Vancouver by-election had retired from the contest and lent their support to the returned soldier candidate there, and he felt that in the contest here the returned soldiers could have reciprocated. But since they did not do so and their candidate will occupy a seat in the House, the Opposition will be glad to give him every assistance in his work in behalf of the returned men. The Opposition had always done its best in the interests of the soldiers so far as its limited numbers in the House permitted, and undoubtedly the large vote the returned soldier candidate received would have a salutary effect upon the Government.

The official recount of the vote will probably be commenced today by Returning Officer H. E. A. Courtney.

WILL GET ACCURATE SOCKEYE SALMON DATA

International Commission Will Follow Run of Fish — Will Find Time Required to Travel to the Spawning Grounds.

SEATTLE, June 28.—Officers of the United States and Canada fisheries departments, co-operating with representatives from this State and British Columbia, will make an exhaustive test this year to determine the length of time sockeye salmon require to make the trip from the salmon banks in Washington waters to a point above the New Westminster bridge on the Fraser river, in British Columbia.

Representatives of the fisheries departments of both Governments will be here next week to make preliminary arrangements. The tests will be continued throughout the fishing season, or approximately between the dates of July 20 and August 15 or 20.

Will Button the Fish

The two Governments will arrange to permit some traps to operate during the weekly thirty-six hour closed season. Salmon will be taken and marked with a button placed in the upper lobe of the caudul fin, and then released. They will be caught again later in the Fraser River and the time between releasing and recatching the fish will be ascertained. It is expected by this method, which is an old and well-proven one, to determine how long the fish must be protected so as to permit them to escape to the spawning beds on the Fraser and its tributaries. The outer traps on salmon banks are the first in Washington waters to get the sockeyes, and the point where they will be recaptured on the Fraser is the last that British Columbia fishermen can fish.

Opinions Vary on Subject

There is a serious controversy between Washington and British Columbia fishermen over the length of time that is required for this run and this year's experiments may be used as a basis for fixing a closed season in the fisheries treaty now being drafted by the two Governments. Washington fishermen proposed that a half closed season, beginning July 20 and extending to August 1, be established in Washington, and that a closed season from July 25 to August 6 be fixed for British Columbia. The Britishers contend that the closed season dates should be identical on both sides of the line, but it is believed American and Canadian authorities have rejected this idea.

Experiment With Mussels

State Fish Commissioner L. H. Darwin has arranged with the San Juan Canning Company, of Friday Harbor, and Professor Trevor Kincaid, in charge of the University of Washington biological station at the same point, to conduct a series of experiments in canning mussels this year. Professor Kincaid says there is a large supply of Puget Sound mussels that are available for canning and which would add materially to the food production of the Sound.

SERBIA'S NATIONAL DAY IS CELEBRATED

LONDON, June 28.—Representatives of Allied nations attended the solemn celebration of the Serbian national day in London today. For the first time in history priests of the Eastern Orthodox Church officiated at a service in the English Episcopal Church. The service was held in the Church of St. Mary le Bow, Cheapside, one of the most ancient shrines of the Church of England.

Three Serbian priests of the Greek Church, in full robes and accompanied by incense bearers, officiated with the assistance of a bishop of the Church of England. The Eastern orthodox liturgy of St. Chrysostom was celebrated, "for the repose of the souls of the warriors who fell for the cause of freedom on the field of Kossovo, and for all the Slav and Allied soldiers in this war, who have together laid down their lives for liberty and mankind."

The Lord Mayor and sheriffs attended the services with their suites.

Take Over German Interests

TORONTO, June 28.—The German Development Company of Canada and certain interests in the Brazeau Collieries, Limited, and in the Rocky Mountain Collieries are to be administered by the Minister of Finance and Receiver-General of Canada, so that they cannot be used for the benefit of the enemy. Steps to accomplish this were taken this morning, when C. C. Robinson secured from Justice Rose an order vesting the assets of the German Development Company and shares standing in the names of certain persons in the Dominion officials.

GREAT CARE TAKEN OF SOLDIERS' TEETH

OTTAWA, June 28.—The following has been received by the Militia Department from Sir Edward Kemp, Minister of Overseas Military Forces:

"It will be of interest to the Canadian public to know that every man in the Canadian army in England is 'dentally fit.'

"One of the first things that happens to a soldier on his arrival in England is to have his mouth examined. A nominal roll is then made out, and the details of the dental condition are set after each name.

"The troops are kept at the segregation camp for a time after their arrival. During their sojourn there, all extractions are attended to, and the nominal rolls are then sent on to the training camps to the assistant director of dental services. At the training camp all the men are paraded to dental clinics and are made dentally fit.

"Before going to France all the men are again paraded. They are given a thorough examination and are made 'dentally fit' before they are allowed to go to the front. The Canadian Army Dental Corps has forty-four dental offices operating in hospitals, in addition to those working in training areas.

"By microscopic diagnosis and systematic treatment, together with the aid of segregation to stop the spread of infection, the ravages of 'trench mouth,' which were assuming disquieting proportions, have been brought under control. There were 2,000 cases early in the year."

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 28.—A of copper claims of Mr. and Mrs. $75,000 interest in the extensive group Emil Voight, at Copper Mountain, near Princeton, is being claimed in an action proceeding in the Supreme Court before Mr. Justice Clement. The plaintiffs are Edward T. Beck, Edward H. Grunder and the Voight Copper Company, and they claim that under an agreement with the Voights to promote the development of the mine they placed such sums in the property as to entitle them to a lien for $75,000.

HOSPITAL ACTIVE IN YEAR JUST CLOSED

Twenty-Eighth Annual Meeting of Board of Directors Held Yesterday Afternoon at Board of Trade Rooms.

The twenty-eighth annual meeting of the directors of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital was held yesterday afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms. Mr. R. S. Day, the president, was in the chair, and there were present five additional members of the board, Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Green, Mr. J. A. Mara, Mr. Fraser and Mr. Andrew Wright.

The four retiring members, Mrs. Rhodes, Mrs. Green, Mr. Mara and Mr. Wright, were unanimously re-elected to the directorate on motion of Dr. Hasell. This, with the five members elected last Monday night by the City Council, makes nine of the board of sixteen, others still to be appointed being four for the Government, one for Saanich, one for Esquimalt and one for Oak Bay. The city representatives named last Monday are ex-Mayor Alexander Stewart, Mr. James Forman, Mr. R. S. Day, Mr. John W. Belden and Mr. Jas. Parfitt, most entirely with the reading of re-

The proceedings were taken up almost entirely with the reading of reports, that of the president being a comprehensive resume of the hospital statistics for the year just ended.

Mr. Day's Report

The number of patients treated in all departments was 2,010, showing an increase of 91. The daily average number of patients was 115, being an increase of 8 per day, and the total number of days' treatment was 42,138, an increase of 3,935 days over last year.

The cost per diem per patient was $2.17, against $2.03 of last year.

During our year of office some of the work originated by our predecessors has been completed. On June 27, 1917, the new Tubercular Ward was formally opened. Advantage was taken of the occasion to graduate a class of nurses, so that the first use to which the building was put was to start some of the pupil nurses who had received their training within our wards on their career in life. We are pleased to record that this building has proved itself well suited for the work of caring for victims of the terrible complaint treated within its walls, while we regret that the need for it is becoming more apparent every day. We acknowledge with thanks a donation of $700 from Mrs. James Dunsmuir towards the furnishing of this ward.

An addition to the Nurses' Home has been built, furnished and opened. Some welcome legacies enabled us to undertake this much-needed work, and while it is not entirely paid for, we trust the continued liberality of friends will enable us to declare it free from debt at an early date. The home is now admirably equipped for the comfort and teaching of our nursing staff.

Diet Kitchen

For many years we had appealed for funds to erect a diet kitchen. At last we have been able to carve enough money out of some bequests to convert two rooms in the administration block into a small kitchen, complete with gas stoves, where nurses now receive instructions in invalid cooking.

The old frame laundry has long outlived its usefulness and conditions there promised to become intolerable. As owing to war conditions we have not been able to obtain funds to equip the new steam laundry, we have decided to move the present plant into it and run it as best we can until times improve.

Finances

The increased cost of all supplies and the corresponding advance in the price of labor affected the hospital. Last year we went rapidly behind. In November, 1917, we found that we had a deficit of $8,000. The whole situation was gone into thoroughly by a special committee, who found that by the end of 1918 the hospital would be $35,000 in debt unless some means of improving the income could be found. This committee recommended an increase of $2.50 per week in the rates for rooms and that every effort be made to get increased grants from public bodies.

The charge for beds in the wards cannot be raised above $1 per day on account of legislative enactment in consideration of the Provincial Government's grant in aid. We waited upon the Government and the city corporation and conferred with delegates appointed by the municipalities of Esquimalt, Oak Bay and Saanich.

We asked the Provincial Government for a lump sum of $10,000. We were fairly and courteously met by the Minister of Health, who intimated that the Government considers it is doing its full share towards hospital maintenance and that in his opinion the city has not done its part of this work. He promised us a grant of $1,500 towards the cost of new quarters for the X-Ray department, for which our thanks are gratefully recorded, as also for the very welcome increase to $1 per day made by the Government for all tubercular patients treated.

Our application to the city met with better success. A cheque for $8,000 was given us early in the year, which paid off our liabilities to December 31, and we were promised $12,000 in monthly instalments of $1,000 during the year, making in all an increased grant of $8,000 from the city over that of the previous year. We are pleased to be able to record this growing appreciation on the part of the City Council of the work done in the hospital and tender our hearty thanks to the Mayor and Aldermen. This grant was based upon an estimate of the number of city indigent patients treated during last year at our per diem rate of cost, $2.11. It is expected the surrounding municipalities will conform to the same standard.

Dr. Rogers' appointment to the position of resident medical superintendent was noted. The position of pathologist, vacant by the resignation of Dr. Long, had been filled by the appointment of Dr. W. P. Walker, F.R.C.S. Both medical men have been overseas serving since the war.

"Our thanks are due to the City Council for the loan of their bacteriological apparatus, which enabled Dr. Walker to carry on very necessary work in connection with a malady that threatened the forces of the crown in this city a few months ago," resumed Mr. Day.

Hand of Death

During the year Mr. Leonard Tait resigned from the board and Mr. Richard Hall was appointed by the city in his place. Mr. Hall's ripe experience and well known business ability were only at our service for a short time, and in common with all his fellow-citizens we regret his removal from our midst by the hand of death.

Mr. Alexander Wilson who was a member of the board for a quarter of a century and was connected with hospital work in Victoria before the Jubilee Hospital was built, also passed away during the year. The hospital never had a truer friend or sturdier champion than he.

By the death of Dr. O. M. Jones, F.R.C.S., the hospital lost one of its best friends. In common with the city and Province we mourn the loss of this distinguished surgeon, whose work added lustre to our institution and made our city a centre for surgery on the Pacific Coast. Dr. Jones was intimately connected with the hospital for over 25 years and passed away within its walls surrounded by all that medical and nursing skill combined with loving care could do to retard the inevitable end.

Affiliation Scheme

The board, on the advice of the superintendent of nurses, elaborated an affiliation scheme under which ladies who have commenced their training in the small hospitals of the Province can at the end of their first year enter our training school and complete their term there. Due care has been taken to conserve the interests of the small hospitals as well as ours, and it is hoped the scheme will be of considerable benefit to all concerned.

Legacies

To the executor of the Greaves estate for $3,000; to the executors of the Thompson estate for $2,500, and to the executors of Thomas Potter estate for $300, our thanks are due. These sums were diverted to the building fund and have been used towards the cost of the annex to the Nurses' Home.

The following acknowledgments were made by President Day:

To Dr. Ernest Hall our thanks are accorded for the gift of electrical equipment.

To the Women's Auxiliary, who have furnished many supplies and whose interest in the hospital continues with undiminished vigor.

To the Daughters of Pity for their continued kindly interest in the Children's Ward.

Our thanks are also due to the Anti-Tuberculosis and kindred Societies for their splendid services rendered during the past year.

The board is deeply grateful to all those mentioned in the list of donors and to those who have in any way assisted the directors in their work. To the generous providers of Christmas gifts, and to those who are supplying the patients with papers and magazines, the Board also desire to express their appreciation.

The thanks of the directors are due to Mr. J. S. H. Matson, of The Colonist, and to The Times Publishing Company, and also to the publishers of The Week, for free copies supplied to the wards.

To all donors of flowers, toys, etc., the directors extend their thanks.

The board also wished to express their entire appreciation of the services of the whole Hospital staff during the year.

Receipts for the year ending May 31, 1918, were shown to total $44,-258.47.

Expenditure accounts for the year were shown to be as follows:

Maintenance, $35,138.77; professional care of patients, $28,816.27; board, $5,802.35; grounds, $1,841.55; furnaces, $4,995.30; house and property, 9,302.66; administration, $3,662.23.

The report of the superintendent was interesting:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—

The number of nurses who received their training up to the present time number 173, seventeen of whom received their diploma and badge by the Training School in 1917.

Miss Boyce received the Bursary awarded by the Victoria Graduate Nurses' Association.

The pupil nurses, under the supervision of our dietitian, are preparing the diets for private patients in addition to all special diets.

The great tragedy being enacted in Europe has given the nursing profession an opportunity for helpful service to humanity, and we are proud that thirty-eight of our graduates have been assigned service in the different countries now at war, and several have distinguished themselves, Miss Little and Miss Younghusband receiving the "Royal Red Cross" of the second grade, Miss Pierce and Miss Mowbray receiving the Military Medal for bravery. Miss Wake, of the class of 1912, has made the supreme sacrifice.

Under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary the addition to the Nurses' Home was formally opened by a silver tea on the 17th of April. The nurses now enjoy the privilege of lecture and demonstration rooms with almost a complete equipment, also a commodious assembly room furnished by the Women's Auxiliary. The building also contains attractive sleeping quarters for both day and night nurses.

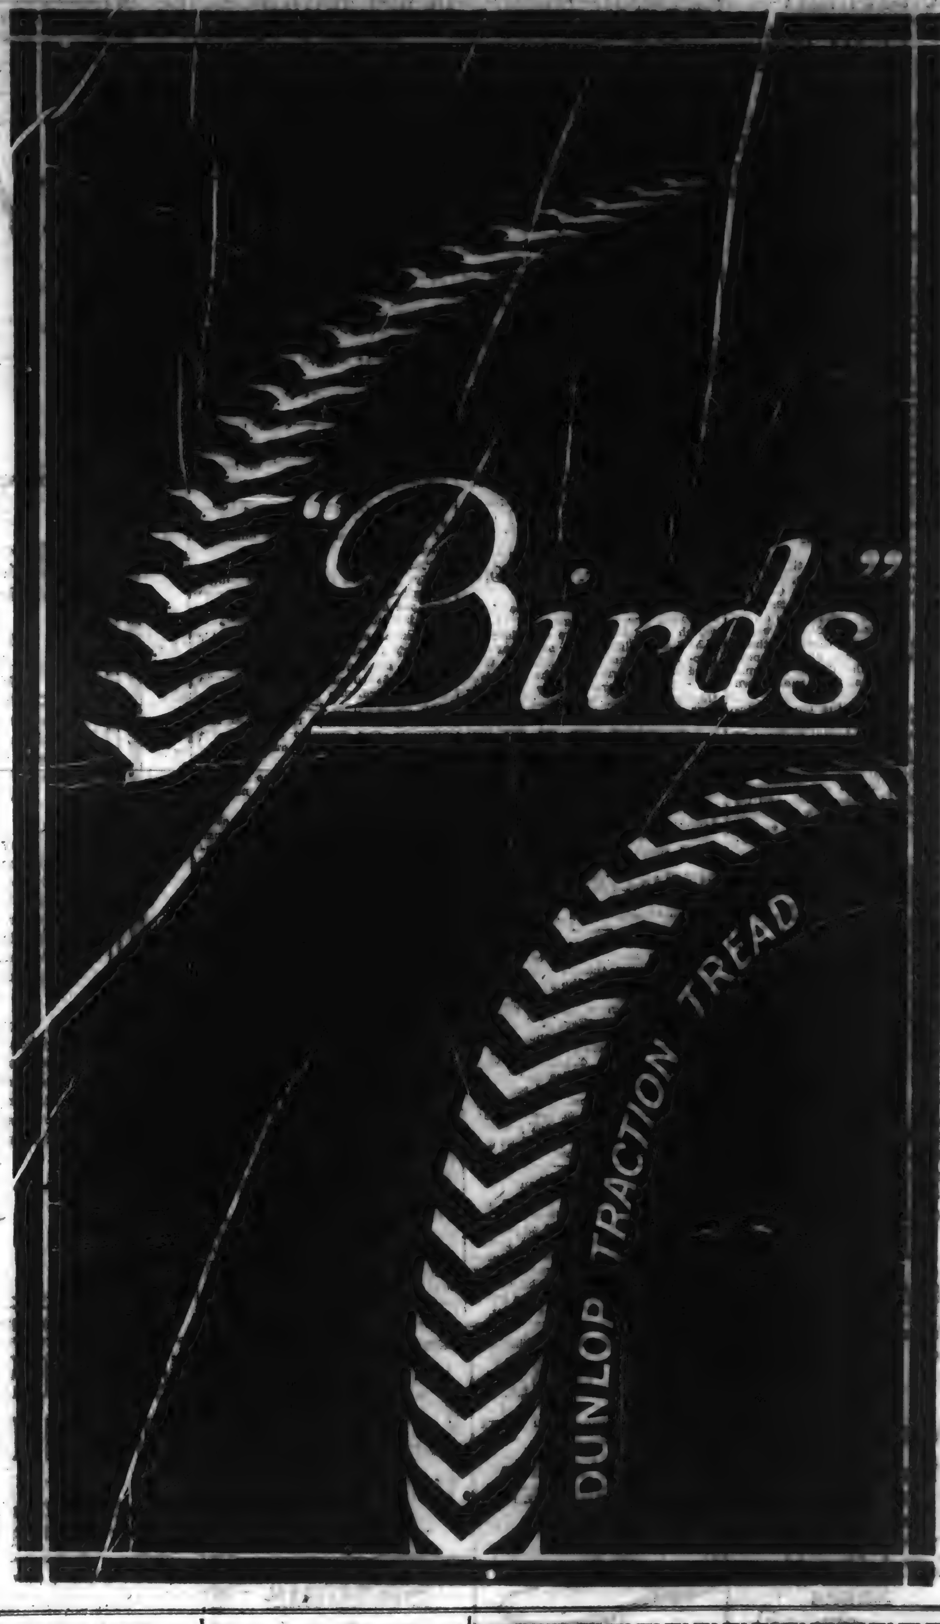

It gives us much pleasure to welcome Dr. H. B. Rogers, our medical superintendent, who has recently seen three years' service in the war zone, also Dr. C. Duck as interne, who has been temporarily relieved from military duties until his services are required for overseas.

The Lady Superintendent expressed her thanks to the Medical Society for their patience, encouragement and counsel, lectures and demonstrations; also to the Women's Auxiliary for their untiring efforts; the Daughters of Pity, who had been most faithful to their trust; the friends of the Hospital for their cheer;; to the clergy, the organist, Miss Fox, and also the press; to the Board of Directors, the managing secretary, Mr. G. T. Carver, and co-workers, and the efficient officers of the school.

Financial Statement.

Mr. Mara, the honorary treasurer, read the financial statement of the Hospital for the year ending May 31, 1918, showing total revenue from all sources as $92,113.01. From the Provincial Government was received $22,774.97, and from pay-patients $46,170.64. The cost per diem per patient for maintenance, operating expenses and administration was $2.17, being an increase of 14 cents over last year, and 26 cents more than 1916, but the cost during the last half of the year was eight cents more than the first half. Judging from the present ruling high prices this ratio would be equalled, if not exceeded, during the coming year.

In the early part of the year the president appointed a special committee under the chairmanship of Mr. A. C. Fraser to enquire into and ascertain the probable cost of maintaining the Hospital for the ensuing year, to report to the Board, and also to interview the City Council, with the view of inducing the honorable body to increase the annual grant. The committee went fully into the whole question and reported that with the steadily increasing cost of provisions, drugs, dressings, surgical instruments and all kinds of medical supplies, it would require $25,000 to maintain the Hospital in a state of efficiency. The Council did not see their way clear to promise that amount, but increased the rate of city indigent patients from $1.50 to $2.11 per diem, and it is confidently expected that the Municipalities of Saanich, Esquimalt and Oak Bay will do the same. The city also kindly agreed to advance the sum of $8,000 to pay off existing liabilities, that amount to be deducted from the monthly payments.

SUMMONED BY KING TO DESCRIBE OUTRAGE

Rev. G. H. Andrews, Formerly at St. Mary's, Oak Bay, Tells How Boche Bombed British Hospital in France.

To Rev. G. H. Andrews, formerly rector of St. Mary's, Oak Bay, but who for the past two years has been overseas in the capacity of chaplain to the Canadian forces, was recently assigned the duty of reporting to His Majesty King George V. particulars of the result of a German bombardment of a British hospital in France.

The account of Major Andrew's summons by the King is told in The London Times, daily edition, of June 6, and is as follows:

"The British hospital in France which was most recently bombed by German airmen was one of those that the King inspected when he paid his last visit to the front, and hearing yesterday that the Rev. G. H. Andrews, a chaplain whom he saw during his inspection, was in London, His Majesty sent for him and heard from him an account of the enemy outrage. The story told by the chaplain was in effect as follows:

"'The hospital was a very large one, which received and evacuated something like 90,000 patients in thirty days. The particular section attacked was near a railway and a small town, and while the Germans had a gun permanently trained on the town and had done much damage there and had, moreover, consistently raided the neighborhood, the hospital had never previously been attacked, thus supplying proof positive that the nature of the place was well known and that the German gunners and airmen had deliberately left it alone in accordance with the common practice of international law, the requirements of the Treaty of Berne and the ordinary dictates of humanity.

"'The outrage occurred at about 12:30, midnight. Two machines appeared over the hospital and dropped three bombs. Two of the missiles fell on the outer wards, but one, a large incendiary bomb, fell into the centre of the hospital and caused a large fire. Forty-five nurses were in the hospital at the time, and all behaved with splendid heroism and self-sacrifice. An operation was actually in progress, and all concerned, surgeons, nurses, and patient, were killed.

"'On the second floor were a great many officers who were to have left the hospital for home two days later. Many fatalities occurred among them, and all the sergeants on this floor were either killed or wounded. Three nurses and an American surgeon were among the killed, and many were badly maimed. Althought the fire lighted up the whole scene, one of the enemy airmen returned, dropped two bombs, and afterwards turned his machine-gun on the staff, nurses, and others who were striving to assist the injured. During the attack the nurses refused to take cover or to avail themselves of such protection as would have been afforded by getting beneath the beds. On the contrary, they did their utmost to cheer and comfort the patients, gave them pillows with which to cover up their heads, and did for them everything that was possible. Even so, a number of patients were killed or wounded, and many of the women paid for their pluck and resource by cruel maiming.'

"The King was deeply moved by Mr. Andrews' story. He made many inquiries about other details of the occurrence and expressed his horror at the outrage and his deep sympathy with all the sufferers and their friends and relatives."

Socialist Deputy Haase Severely Arraigns Conduct of Military Leaders In Occupied Territory—Alienating World

AMSTERDAM, June 28.—The notable speech delivered in the German Reichstag this week by Deputy Hugo Haase, the Socialist, in which he vigorously attacked the Government's foreign policy and alluded to the growing importance of the American military effort, is given considerable space in semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung. Its version of the speech is as follows:

"Dr. Helfferich and Admiral von Capelle," says Deputy Haase, "told us in 1917 that the United States would be unable to take any further part in the war, and that its military importance was nil. Today there are 700,000 Americans on French soil, and nothing has been heard of any U-boat booty in the shape of American transports. The speeches of Count von Westarp and Herr Stresseman regarding American powerlessness must therefore be taken with the greatest mistrust."

Herr Haase, continues the semi-official version of the speech, went on with a bitter attack on the German military rulers for their method of conducting the war, which was alienating the friendship of the whole world. He declared their methods were making a decent peace impossible, and that the German people must take matters into their own hands.

"The Armenians," the speaker declared, "are sending us affecting calls for help against the brutal violence of the Turks, who are aiming anew at their complete extermination. These calls will go unheard, although the victims of the Turks are numbered by the hundreds of thousands, and we have the audacity to permit the handing over to the Turks again of the districts of Batum, Kars and Ardahan.

"In Livonia and Esthonia the German police is treating the people with an arbitrariness of the worst sort, as if the district were a conquered country. Conditions in the Riga district cry to heaven. Ten-year-old boys have been sentenced to long terms of imprisonment for distributing proclamations. In the prisons, people are tortured in a way resembling that of the worst days of Czarism.

"The German military power everywhere in Russia has been active as the strangler of democracy and the oppressor of freedom. In Finland an equal terrorism reigns among the working classes.

"If things go on according to the will of our military autocracy, Germany will be ruined, unless the people take the cause of peace in their own hands."

VANCOUVER Y.M.C.A. FUND FALLS SHORT

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 28.—Although the campaign for funds which ended tonight, to complete the Y.M.C.A. building fell short of the hoped-for amount by more than $100,000, subscribers to the fund will be asked to permit their contributions to be used to build another Y.M.C.A. structure of considerable less pretensions than the one that was started several years ago and remains unfinished.

Under agreement the failure of the campaign automatically releases subscribers from obligations to pay the amounts promised. Including the $100,000 promised by the national body, the amount raised was $313,000, a total of $450,000 was desired.

RUSSIAN-UKRAINE AGREEMENT REACHED

AMSTERDAM, June 28.—A telegram from Kiev, Russia, to a Berlin newspaper says that an agreement had been reached in the peace negotiations between Russia and the Ukraine in regard to the frontier boundaries to the effect that all disputes arising after the conclusion of peace shall be settled by a court of arbitration. Both delegations were ready to exclude any idea of annexations or forcible seizures of territory. With due regard to political, economic and other interests of the two peoples as a whole, they decided that the ethnographic principle should govern in forming the frontiers.

Giragosian's Invention

WASHINGTON, June 28.—An engine invented by T. K. Giragosian, of Boston, who claims it will utilize an inexhaustible source of cheap power from the air, will be tested at Boston tomorrow by scientists selected by the inventor and approved by Secretary Lane. The test, which was authorised by Congress, will be secret.

AERIAL NAVIES GRAPPLE FREELY

British and French Airmen in Two Days Bring Down Forty Enemies and Carry Out Many Bombing Raids.

LONDON, June 28.—Twenty German airplanes were destroyed by British aviators in air fighting over the Western front on Thursday, according to British official dealing with aviation tonight. In addition, nine enemy aircraft were forced to earth out of control. The British themselves lost fourteen machines.

The text of the communication follows:

"A full day's work was done Thursday by our reconnaissance, photographic and artillery machines. There was some increase in hostile activity in the air, and more fighting occurred.

"Twenty German airplanes were destroyed and nine driven down out of control. Fourteen of ours are missing.

"Bombing was carried out vigorously beyond the German lines. Twenty-one tons of bombs were dropped during the 24 hours, on railway junctions and other targets."

A statement issued by the Air Ministry today says:

"Our airplanes on the night of June 27-28 successfully attacked the enemy's airdrome at Bolchen (German Lorraine, 15 miles northeast of Mets). Bombs were released at low altitudes, and machine guns were fired into hangars. All our machines returned safely.

"The enemy bombed one of our airdromes last night but did no material damage.

"This afternoon airplanes attacked the workshops, stations and sidings at Thionville (German Lorraine). Observation was difficult, but direct hits were seen to have been made on the works. Nearly three tons of bombs were dropped.

"Our formations were attacked by hostile airplanes. Severe fighting ensued, three enemy airplanes were destroyed and a number were driven down. Three of our machines did not return."

PARIS, June 28.—The official report today says: "On June 26-27 twenty German machines were brought down or put out of action, and four captive balloons were burned. Our bombing squadrons in the same period during the day and night dropped 55 tons of projectiles on aviation grounds along the Somme and Aisne and on cantonments and bivouacs at Rosnieres-en-Santerre, Flames and Guignicourt and the stations of Soissons, Fere-en-Tardenois and other places. Two munitions depots were exploded and several fires were observed.

BERLIN, June 28.—The headquarters statement says: "Strong flying forces have been brought into action and led to violent aerial combats. Yesterday our aviators shot down 25 airplanes and one captive balloon, and our anti-aircraft guns shot down five airplanes."

MAKES SYNOPSIS OF WAR RECORDS

Office in England Does Important Work in Publishing Historical Matters Connected With Canadian Forces.

OTTAWA, June 28.—That the Canadian War Records Office in England is doing highly valuable work, the importance of which is hardly realised in Canada, is indicated in the following article issued by the Militia Department today.

"Under Lord Beaverbrook the Canadian War Records Office has been doing splendid work. Its official photographs, its moving picture films and its contemporary histories have been special exclusive features. These features have resulted in Canada's war effort becoming a byword in all parts of the world. The books have been translated into many languages and the pictures sent to many lands.

"A tabloid history of every unit in the Canadian Expeditionary Force is being prepared from the time of its mobilization. This will save the future historian from searching through tens of thousands of contemporary history files. He will have before him the dates of every outstanding action, accompanied by references to the particular diary in the detailed history describing it fully. Thus, through the forethought and systematizing genius of the Canadian War Records Office, the official Canadian historians will take up their great task with a great advantage over previous historians, and the people of Canada will benefit by the time saved in the compilation of the work.

"Custody parcels have recently been taken over from the Records Office. These are parcels of documents from the regiments in France, which include many papers of historical importance and value. There are thousands of these custody parcels and it has been necessary that the War Records staff move to a warehouse building in that part of London called 'the city,' in order to secure the space required.

"The department is now preparing a series of stories covering the activities of each Canadian brigade from the time of its organization to its most recent operations. They will be in light narrative style. The most important actions will be fully described, but due space will be given to the astonishing raids which have been a feature of the Canadian warfare. The history of each brigade will be contained in a separate booklet.

"A book of terse short stories with a strong personal appeal describing the actual occurrences in France, also is being prepared. It will contain twenty-five to thirty-five stories, which will do much to bring the personal side of the war close to the people at home.

"An illustrated handbook of the Canadian V. C.'s containing a description of their deeds also is to be issued. There also will be a book of honors and awards, with descriptions of the more spectacular deeds."

Return to Work

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., June 28.—Having been given full assurance by the Taft-Walsh labor policies board that whatever wage decision is handed down by that board would be enforced by the Government, the 10,000 machinists and tool-makers who have been on strike since last Wednesday noon from the manufacturing plants here engaged in essential war work will return to their respective shops tomorrow.

GERMANY STRIVES TO SUPPRESS TRUTH

WASHINGTON, June 28.—German activity in preventing the circulation of the memoirs of Prince Lichnowsky and of statements of Former Director Muehlohn, of the Krupp Works, blaming Germany for the world war, was noted in an official dispatch today from Paris, based upon information from Berne, Switzerland.

"Germany is trying by all means in her power to prevent the truth leaking out regarding the causes of the war," says the dispatch.

"Immediately the pamphlets containing texts regarding these causes appear they are bought up by wholesale by German agents. The memoirs of Prince Lichnowsky appear to particularly disturb the Germans."

A BY-LAW

To Authorize the purchase of certain lands for a public cemetery without the municipal limits, and to authorize the borrowing of $37,950.00 for the purpose of paying therefor.

WHEREAS the municipal cemetery, known as "Ross Bay Cemetery," is rapidly being filled up for burial purposes, and it will be necessary within a comparatively short time to have other cemetery accommodation available for the purposes of the Corporation;

AND WHEREAS the Corporation holds an Option under seal, exercisable until the 11th day of July, 1918, for the exclusive right to purchase, for cemetery purposes certain lands and premises described as "all that part of Sections 36 and 37, Victoria District, lying West of Richmond Avenue and South of Lansdowne Road," which said lands are situate in the Municipality of the District of Saanich and without the Municipal Limits of the City of Victoria, and are to be vested in the Corporation by a good and registerable title in fee simple, free and clear of all liens, charges and encumbrances, save and except an existing lease thereof for a term of five (5) years from the 1st day of April, 1914, determinable at the end of the third year of such tenancy on payment to the Lessee of $750.00;

AND WHEREAS the purchase price specified to be paid by the said Option for the said lands is at the rate of $500.00 per acre, and the said lands comprise Seventy-five and ninety-one-hundredths (75.90) acres, as determined by the City Surveyor, and the total purchase price thereof will be Thirty-seven thousand nine hundred and fifty dollars ($37,950.00) accordingly;

AND WHEREAS the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria deems it expedient to purchase the said lands for the purpose of a public cemetery of the said Corporation, and it is necessary to raise or borrow the said sum of $37,950.00 for the purpose of paying the said purchase price therefor, which said sum is the debt which this By-law is intended to create.

AND WHEREAS it is expedient to make the whole of the said debt and of the debentures to be issued therefor repayable in such yearly sums during the period of twenty years as are shown in Section numbered four of this By-law, pursuant to Section 27, Subsection (4) (c) of the "Municipal Act";

AND WHEREAS the amount of the whole rateable land and improvements within the Municipality of the City of Victoria, according to the last revised Assessment Roll, is $78,981,552.00;

AND WHEREAS the amounts required to be raised annually for paying the debt which will be created hereunder, and the amounts required to be raised annually for paying the interest thereon for twenty years in accordance with the said "Municipal Act" are as set forth in said Section five of this By-law;

AND WHEREAS this By-law may not be altered or repealed except with the consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council;

THEREFORE, the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the City of Victoria enacts as follows:

3. It shall be lawful for the said Mayor and Council to cause any number of debentures to be made, executed and issued for such sums as may be required, not exceeding, however, the sum of $37,950.00; each of the said debentures being of an amount not less than $100; and one, if necessary, for a less sum, to complete the authorized issue, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation and signed by the Mayor thereof. Such debentures shall be issued on the plan, or of the class authorised by Section 27, Subsection (4) (c) of the "Municipal Act" (known as the Serial Bond Plan).

4. The said debentures shall bear date of the 21st day of July, 1918, and shall be made payable within twenty years from said date at the office of the City Treasurer of the City of Victoria, and shall be payable in twenty (20) annual instalments during the twenty years next after the date thereof, and the respective amounts of principal and interest payable in each of such years shall be as follows:

APPOINTS SHIPYARD DISPUTES ADJUSTER

Mr. W. L. Macdonald, of Vancouver, Will Be the Final Judge in Shipyard Disagreements—Much to Be Done.

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 28.—The appointment of Mr. W. L. Macdonald, of this city, to the position of adjuster for the shipyards of British Columbia has been announced. It will be remembered that when the shipyard strike was settled a few weeks ago one clause of the agreement which was believed would be more responsible for stabilizing labor in these yards than anything else was the agreement to appoint an adjuster, who would be the final court of appeal. The adjuster, in addition, will perform the duty of reviewing in every quarter the cost of living in order to find out if it has increased. In case such a development has arisen, there will be an adequate adjustment of wages.

Mr. Macdonald's appointment was recommended by Senator G. D. Robertson, and was confirmed by the Government, the announcement being made public today.

Mr. Macdonald has been a resident of Vancouver for the past eight years. He is a broad student of economics and an active observer of labor conditions. Until his coming to this city he was actively interested in an administrative way with labor, having been chairman of the western division and a member of the general committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Telegraphers for some years. Mr. Macdonald was active in the organization for eight years, and since he removed to Vancouver to enter into business he has kept in touch with labor conditions. His reputation among the men for whom he worked when an officer in the union is high. He will assume his duties at once, his headquarters being at 736 Rogers Building.

The appointment of W. L. Macdonald as official adjuster of shipyard differences has come in time to relieve worries of the labor organizations. A half dozen disputes have already reached the stage where the adjuster is required. They include the protest among the Lyall men regarding retroactive pay, differences in the Coquitlam yards, including retroactive pay, and classification and rates of certain grades of employment. In addition there are several disputes waiting in Victoria yards.

The Metal Trades Council, it is said, has not yet been officially notified of the appointment of Mr. Macdonald.

SAY I.M.B. SHIPS LACK ENGINEERS

Protest Against Alleged Undermanning for Long Voyage Is Laid With Board of Trade—Relief Is Sought.

The Board of Trade is making inquiries into the complaint of a number of chief and second engineers for the Imperial Munitions Board steamers, who protest against going to sea with only three engineers per vessel, instead of four, the standard number.

According to the story they told the council of the Board of Trade yesterday, the engineers have used every resource in getting the authorities to provide against undermanning the vessels with "greasers." Capt. Snowden, who is taking over the I. M. B. vessels on behalf of their owners after they are completed, claims the grievance of the engineers is lacking in substance and that, even if four engineers per ship were needed, they couldn't be found.

The Board of Trade considered taking the matter up with the Marine and Fisheries Department through Capt. G. E. L. Robertson, local agent, although previous to taking action along that line President Joshua Kingham interviewed Capt. J. W. Troup, assistant-director of the Imperial Munitions Board. The new owners of the vessels in Great Britain may be communicated with direct if satisfaction cannot be obtained by other means.

The engineers take the stand that they are naturally anxious to deliver the ships in good condition, but that it is inviting disaster to sail under existing conditions. A Chinese crew and only three engineers, they say, would be absolutely an unsafe proposition, and they claim that if they undertook to get the ships away they would certainly lose their jobs on their return home for taking such chances. Capt. Snowdon, they say, is a navigator who has little practical knowledge of marine engineering.

THREE JAP BOATS ARE ROUTED TO VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, June 28. — Three steamers of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha are to visit Vancouver next month, and interest is attached to the movement because it indicates a resumption of direct service with Japan. The new 500-foot liner Arabia Maru, due on Tuesday, is making her maiden voyage, and will come to Vancouver direct. The Mexico Maru, due in the middle of July, will also come here without stopping at Victoria, and the third ship will be the Africa Maru, another of the new vessels.

MEN ARE SCARCE IN HALIBUT INDUSTRY

Shortage of Hands May Tie Up Vessels—Only Four Fishermen on Some Boats.

VANCOUVER, June 28.—The shortage of fishermen for the halibut steamers is creating a situation which may lead to the tying up of the vessels, according to Mr. A. L. Hager, manager of the New England Fish Company. The steamer Imbricaria has reached port with only 12,000 pounds of halibut and 20,000 pounds of cod. The vessel had her full complement of master, mates, deck hands, engineers and firemen, but only four fishermen were available. The steamer Canada has sailed and she also hs only four fishermen.

To Run Trials Today

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 28.—The trial trip of the steamer Alaska, the first ship to be built at the Coughlan shipyards, will take place on Saturday morning.

Vancouver's Shipping

VANCOUVER, June 28.—The American auxiliary schooner Margaret arrived from Astoria on Friday night and docked at the Government wharf this morning to load for Australia. The new Japanese cargo vessel Oridono Maru, 3,300 tons, was only in port a few hours, and proceeded to Seattle last night after discharging a shipment of peanuts.

Progress in Quebec Yard

QUEBEC, June 28.—The two new wooden ships recently launched from the Quinlan and Robertson shipyards at Limoilou to be converted into steam freight carriers in the service of the Imperial Government during the war, and now docked at the Louise docks, are making good progress with the installation of their machinery.

Concrete Barge in Service

VANCOUVER, June 28.—A concrete barge of 550 tons capacity, recently constructed at Seattle is to enter the Vancouver trade, and will ply here under the management of the Border Line Transportation Company, which operates a fleet of coasting steamers between Vancouver and the Sound.

PROFESSOR BROCK GOES TO PALESTINE

VANCOUVER, June 28.—Professor Brock, Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science in the University of British Columbia, has been selected by the imperial authorities as geological expert with the British forces in the Holy Land, and will leave England shortly for Palestine to take up his new duties.

Professor Brock, who left here as major in the 196th Western Universities Battalion, has been overseas for over two years. When the Khaki University was started at Seaford Camp, Major Brock was chosen for its head. He was in charge of the Dominion Geological Survey before joining the British Columbia University.

STOCK PRICES SHOW MUCH IRREGULARITY

Uncertain and Apparently Arbitrary Movements Noted in Various Groups — Russian News Has Some Influence.

NEW YORK, June 28.—The bullish and irregular course of today's stock market was ascribed to foreign dispatches on the Russian situation. Abrupt fluctuations in specialties, General Motors, Sumatra Tobacco and other issues, under pool guidance, were not conducive to general improvement.

United States Steel in a more limited area closed at a loss of almost a point.

Metals came forward briskly on announcement that the copper prices would soon again come before the War Board. Several of the less prominent oil issues, notably Royal Dutch and Sinclair, were substantially higher.

Sales amounted to 435,000 shares.

Further relaxation was manifested by time money, and call loans were easier than at recent week-ends.

Russia's external 5½'s and 6½'s gained from 3 to 4 points on the curb. Total sales, par value, aggregated $8,350,000. Old U. S. bonds unchanged on call.

Teach the Children to Save

Habits are acquired early in life. Children, who are taught the value of money and the habit of saving, grow up into good business men and capable women.

The easiest way to teach children to save, is to start a Savings Account for each child ($1.00 each is sufficient). After a child has saved another dollar to make an additional deposit, he or she will have a better appreciation of just what a dollar stands for, and how much work and self-denial it represents.
